Information Technology Outsourcing Strategies for a Manufacturing Firm Yvan Poulin, 2006-05-18 To outsource or not to outsource its internal IT department That is the question that many firms have been asking themselves Outsourcing has been around for more than 20 years in the different manufacturing areas At first companies decided to outsource the manufacturing of components in countries which would be bringing cost benefits by reducing the overall cost of their products With the Internet gaining momentum as a quick and reliable source of information transmission many manufacturing firms are now evaluating the possibility to outsource their IT functions in order to focus their energy efforts and capitals on core competencies thus reducing costs and improving quality of their IT services From the literature review we understand that cost reductions could be obtained but they are usually less impressive than estimated in the preparation of a typical IT outsourcing business case The overall objective of this dissertation through the study case of a manufacturing business THE COMPANY is to build a framework that will take into account all the elements necessary for a manufacturing firm to accurately evaluate the strategic initiative of outsourcing its internal IT functions in order to achieve not just cost reductions but improved value for the users performing activities with these technological tools and processes

Developing a Successful Subsidiary Strategy

Paul Lyons, 2023-09-18 Most books on business strategy approach the subject from a corporate perspective covering topics such as the vision for the business the marketplace competition and differentiation However the reality is that most managers work in sub units or subsidiaries of the business and they are not involved in corporate strategy formulation Their strategic concerns are with the positioning and future trajectory of their own units within the complex internal ecosystem in which they exist If these units are to survive and grow the middle managers responsible for them must plan their future maximise their value add and compete for resources within the internal market of their corporations Such internal markets are becoming increasingly volatile due to general economic conditions but also given the questioning of globalisation and increasing corporate concerns about the frailties of international supply chains as brought into sharp focus by the COVID 19 crisis and the war in Ukraine This book provides practical perspectives for these business unit managers and a step by step toolkit that can be used by management teams to develop a successful subsidiary strategy that acknowledges these challenges while maximising their contribution to corporate objectives It is based on the author s 30 years of experience as an executive in a complex multinational IBM organisation supplemented by academic study at Master s and PhD levels The material covered has been verified through workshops over a 3 year period with the senior leadership teams of over 30 multinational subsidiaries operating from Ireland
