The Translational Design of Schools Kenn Fisher, 2016-10-13 This book summarises the deep level of research carried out since 2008 within the emerging evidence based translational design EBD approach to learning environments research This programme has been carried out by the Learning Environments Applied Research Network of the University of Melbourne its partners and colleagues The chapters are based on ten 3 4 year full time doctoral research dissertations with each chapter outlining the key findings from these studies The book links the chapters through the lens of evidence based design which originates from the health planning sector The rigour of that sector is based on the well accepted methodology of translational research used in clinical medicine for many years In adapting that practice translational medicine is akin to translational development When applied to other sectors and disciplines this becomes EBD health planning translational engineering or in the case of evidence based architecture translational design Thus educational planning becomes the translational design of learning environments These doctoral dissertations are examples of this approach The chapters are organised into a narrative that examines evidence based design through three key themes The first explores key issues in learning environments with three chapters covering spatial literacy in pedagogical practice engaging students in learning spaces and re placing classrooms through flexibility The second theme focusses on the socio cultural implications of learning environments exploring student identity formation aligning learning environment affordances for effective professional development in an innovative senior secondary school and occupying curriculum as space in the arts The third theme investigates the design implications for learning environments with four chapters covering corridors nooks and crannies making space for learning the role of the primary school library in learning plans and pedagogies school design as socio spatial assemblage and evaluating the spatial changes in a technology enabled primary years setting

Learning Environment Susan La Marca, 2010 A part of the Learning in a Changing World Series Designing the Learning Environment discusses how we develop effective learning spaces with an emphasis on understanding the needs of the major stakeholders of these spaces students Designing learning spaces and in particular designing school libraries as learning spaces is presented as an approach to understanding learning needs Specifically planning must be learning driven human centred and flexible Designing a learning environment begins with the end in sight it looks at the research and learning theories and uses these as the foundation for planning Various aspects of school library design are considered and discussed types of spaces from large group to individual workroom spaces reading spaces ICT requirements the impact of factors such as lighting and acoustics and the aesthetics of the finished design The Learning in a Changing World Series looks at how the process of learning is evolving at a rapid pace from the array of resources available in the digital age changing curriculum and different teaching strategies needed in order to use new media and technologies school leaders in the 21st century need to adapt and learn in order to succeed Other titles in the series includes Curriculum Integration Virtual Worlds Resourcing for Curriculum Innovation Connect Communicate Collaborate Improving America's Schools Together Louis M. Gomez, Manuelito Biag, David G. Imig, Randy Hitz, Steve Tozer, 2023-05-05 Improving America's Schools Together How District University Partnerships and Continuous Improvement Can Transform Education is the first definitive text on continuous improvement in school district university partnerships covering improvement methods theory research and real cases across the United States with practical improvement tools that can be adapted to any setting Through an array of in depth stories this book demonstrates how improvement science as a shared method can help universities districts and schools foster leaders and educators and enhance students learning and opportunities Digital Fabrication in Interior Design Jonathon Anderson, Lois Weinthal, 2021-11-04 Digital Fabrication in Interior Design Body Object Enclosure draws together emerging topics of making that span primary forms of craftsmanship to digital fabrication in order to theoretically and practically analyze the innovative and interdisciplinary relationship between digital fabrication technology and interior design The history of making in interior design is aligned with traditional crafts but a parallel discourse with digital fabrication has yet to be made evident This book repositions the praxis of experimental prototyping and integrated technology to show how the use of digital fabrication is inherent to the interior scales of body objects and enclosure These three scales act as a central theme to frame contributions that reinforce the interdisciplinary nature of interior design and reinterpret traditional crafts by integrating new methods of making into conventional workflows Featuring significant international practitioners and researchers the selected contributions represent the ever increasing interdisciplinary nature of design demonstrating a breadth of disciplines A foundational text for interiors students and practitioners Digital Fabrication in Interior Design expands the necessary dialogue about digital fabrication at the scale of interiors to inform design theory and practice Architectural Education Everett Sinclair, AI, 2025-03-04 Architectural Education explores the comprehensive journey of becoming an architect from academic foundations to professional practice It spotlights how pedagogical methods practical application and continuous development shape future architects The book uniquely addresses the evolving challenges within architectural training emphasizing the balance between theoretical knowledge hands on experience and critical reflection One intriguing fact is the integration of sustainable design principles into modern curricula reflecting architecture s growing role in addressing global challenges The book s structure offers a comprehensive overview starting with fundamental principles and historical context before delving into specific aspects like design studios and technology integration including BIM Building Information Modeling It argues that effective architectural education must produce technically skilled socially conscious and ethically grounded architects The book investigates how institutions can foster holistic development moving from conventional approaches to forward thinking training The progression across chapters provides practical recommendations for educators and institutions to enhance their programs
