Technology The Labor Process And The Working Class Essays:

Capitalism, Technology, Labor Greg Albo, Leo Panitch, Alan Zuege, 2020-08-04 The Socialist Register has been at the forefront of intellectual enquiry and strategic debate on the left for five decades This expertly curated collection analyzes technological innovation against the backdrop of the recurrent crises and forms of class struggle distinctive to capitalism As we enter what some term the fourth industrial revolution and both mainstream commentators and the left grapple with the implications of rapid technological development this volume is a timely and crucial resource for those looking to build a political strategy attentive to sweeping changes in how we produce goods and live our lives Technology, the Labor Process, and the Working Class, 1976 Labor Literature, 1977 Technocapitalism Luis Suarez-Villa, 2012-08-03 A new version of capitalism grounded in technology and science is spawning new forms of corporate power and organization that will have major implications for the twenty first century Technological creativity is thereby turned into a commodity in new corporate regimes that are primarily oriented toward research and intellectual appropriation This phenomenon is likely to have major social economic and political consequences as the new corporatism becomes ever more intrusive and rapacious through its control over technology and innovation In his provocative book Technocapitalism Luis Suarez Villa addresses this phenomenon from the perspective of radical political economy and social criticism Grounded in the premise that relations of power influence how human creativity and technology are exploited by the new corporatism the author argues that new forms of democratic participation and resistance are needed if the social pathologies created by this new version of capitalism are to be checked Considering the new sectors affected by technocapitalism such as biotechnology nanotechnology bioinformatics and genomics Suarez Villa deciphers the common threads of power and organization that drive their corporatization These new sectors and the corporate apparatus set up to extract profit and power through them are imposing standards creating business models molding social governance and influencing social relations at all levels The new reality they create is likely to affect most every aspect of human existence including work health life and nature itself

The Terror of the Machine Devon G. Peña, 2014-10-14 Born of thirteen years of field research this interdisciplinary work explores the complex intersections of technology class gender and ecology in the transnational milieu of Mexico's maquiladoras foreign owned assembly plants located along the U S border Devon Peña examines workplace and community struggles from the perspective of the women who work in the maquiladoras He describes the workers struggles for workplace democracy social justice and sustainable development He also observes the circulation of struggle from the factory to the community highlighting the efforts to establish worker owned cooperatives in the border region during the 1970s and 1980s Female maquila workers are typically portrayed as passive apolitical and easily exploited This book however presents an opposing view investigating the subaltern life of the shop floor the workers informal methods of resistance to hazardous conditions sexual harassment and managerial tyranny Using survey research oral history discourse analysis and site ethnography the author develops a cogent critique of labor process theory a critique grounded on his extensive study of actual workplace politics in the maquiladoras The Terror of the Machine is a trenchant analysis of the political cultural and environmental effects of maquila industrialization and an eloquent and persuasive call for alternatives in the direction of ecologically sustainable and culturally appropriate modes of development

Capitalist Patriarchy and the Case for Socialist Feminism Zillah R. Eisenstein, 2019-06-01 Fourteen provocative papers on the oppression of women in capitalist countries along with three articles on the subordinate position of women in two communist countries Cuba and China These important often path breaking articles are arranged in five basic sections the titles of which indicate the broad range of issues being considered Introduction motherhood reproduction and male supremacy socialist feminist historical analysis patriarchy in revolutionary society socialist feminism in the United States The underlying thrust of the book is toward integrating the central ideas of radical feminist thought with those pivotal for Marxist or socialist class analysis

The Time of Their Lives Julie Kimber, Peter Love, Lyn Beaton, Margo Beasley, Drew Cottle, Angela Keys, Helen Masterman-Smith, Charles Fahey, John Lack, Patricia Grimshaw, Nell Musgrove, Shurlee Swain, Claire Higgins, Rob Hitchcock, Val Noone, Ben Maddison, Bobbie Oliver, Mikael Ottosson, Calle Rosengren, Kerry Taylor, Jeff Rich, Barbara Webster, 2007-07-01 On 21 April 1856 Melbourne building workers won an industry wide agreement to establish the Eight Hour Day In the 150 years since then the slogan Eight Hours Labour Eight Hours Recreation Eight Hours Rest has symbolised workers efforts to take control over the time of their lives and in doing so strike a civilised balance between work rest and play It was an assertion that they were not simply operatives in a labour market but also family members and citizens in what they hoped could become a civilised community This book offers historical perspectives on that continuing campaign to give readers a long term context for our current debates over the work life balance and power in the workplace

The Degradation of Work? Stephen Wood, 2024-09-02 Originally published in 1982 and now reissued with a new Preface by Stephen Wood the contributors of this book discuss the issues surrounding the organization of labour They use insights from industrial sociology historical research and Marxist Feminist debates In particular they stress that work organization cannot be seen simply as a reflection of the strategy of an omniscient management any examination of it must involve product and labour markets technology trade unionism and above all the way in which production systems are jointly created out of the interrelationship between management and workforces The Degradation of Work asks if there has been a general de skilling and routinization of jobs and if skilled jobs are really any different from semi skilled or unskilled ones

Beyond Capital István Mészáros, 1995 Meszaros defines capital system as embracing private ownership and Soviet type postcapitalism both share the same hierarcical structure the same destructive tendencies and the same exploitation of the labour force Capitalism may appear to be triumphant world wide but Beyond Capital is a devastating exposure of a system which can only renew itself at the cost of increasing its problems and can only delay but not avoid its eventual collapse The theoretical scope and intellectual rigour of Beyond Capital is matched by its practical importance Beyond Capital is a major contribution to the development of socialist strategies in these times of despondency and crisis of the historical left Back Cover
