

A person is silhouetted against a clear blue sky as they walk a thin tightrope. The rope is stretched diagonally from the top left towards the bottom center. The person has their arms outstretched for balance. Below the rope, a deep, dark gorge with rocky cliffs and some vegetation is visible. The overall scene conveys a sense of high risk and precarious balance.

The Love Knot Robert N. Ross, 2001 The Love Knot is devoted primarily to the partner's side of the cancer story. It is Robert Ross's gift to those who live with the fear, the pain, the uncertainty and possible loss of the person they love most in the world. Many books have been written on how to be a cancer survivor, on how to make the necessary accommodations to cancer without being defeated by it, on how not to act the victim. Not surprisingly, these books have been written primarily for the person who actually has cancer, but the intrusion of a life-threatening illness like cancer touches a circle of people far beyond the person who has cancer.

My Favorite Midlife Crisis (Yet) Toby Devens, 2006-09-01 Dr Gwyneth Berke has a perfect life until one day she walks into her pantry, lets out a little scream of disbelief and begins the following list: What to do when you find out that your husband is in love with your interior decorator Brad; or A Midlife Crisis Checklist: Get divorced; this is a must; Quickly discover a lifetime supply of humor; this will also help with your children and your mentally deteriorating father; Stop sulking; show a little spirit and start a new life plan; also a must; Recruit your two very dear, newly single friends to help you with it; Don't look back and enjoy the ride.

Ain't It Funny Margaret Gurevich, 2025-09-16 For fans of Stand Up Yumi Chung and The Miscalculations of Lightning Girl comes an honest and heartfelt novel about a girl who's determined not to let her growing anxiety and OCD hold her back from using stand-up comedy to get her parents back together. Now in paperback, Eleven-year-old Maya's life is a bit of a mess. Her dad just moved out to pursue his stand-up comedy dreams; her mom seems more preoccupied with running the family's Russian deli than getting Dad back; and Maya's anxiety and germ worries have only been growing stronger. Her grandma always tells her slozi goryu ne pomozhet (tears won't help), but right now it's hard to be strong. So when her teacher Ms. Banta announces the sixth-grade talent show, Maya sees an opportunity. If she can perform stand-up comedy in the show, she can prove to her mom and dad that comedy has a place in all their lives and try to get them back together. But conquering her fears amidst her family falling apart and a growing hot-hot-hot feeling inside is easier said than done. In this authentic novel full of both humor and heartbreak, Margaret Gurevich crafts a story about comedy, fractured family, and learning how strength comes in many forms.

Derek Walcott: The Journeyman Years. Volume 2: Performing Arts Christopher Balme, Gordon Collier, 2013-12-06 During the same period in which Derek Walcott was pouring immense physical, emotional, and logistical resources into the foundation of a viable first-rate West Indian theatre company and continuing to write his inimitable poetry, he was also busy writing newspaper reviews chiefly for the Trinidad Guardian. His prodigious reviewing activity extended far beyond those areas with which one might most readily associate his interests and convictions. As Gordon Rohlehr once presciently observed, "If one wants to see a quotidian workaday Walcott, one should go back to his well over five hundred articles, essays, and reviews on painting, cinema, calypso, carnival, drama, and literature, articles which reveal a rich, various, witty, and scrupulous intelligence in which generous humour counterpoints acerbity." These articles capture the vitality of Caribbean culture and shed additional light on the aesthetic preoccupations expressed in Walcott's essays published in journals. The editors have examined the corpus of Walcott's journalistic activity from its beginnings in 1950 to its peak in the early 1970s and have made a generous selection of material from the Guardian along with occasional pieces from such sources as Public Opinion, Kingston and The Voice of St Lucia. The articles in Volume 2 are organized as follows: the performing arts; general surveys of anglophone Caribbean drama, theatre and society; festivals; theatre companies and productions; British and American drama; dance and music; theatre; Carnival and calypso; and cinema screenings in Trinidad. Volume 2 additionally contains an exhaustive annotated and cross-referenced chronological bibliography of Walcott's journalism up to 1990. The co-editor Christopher Balme has written a searching introductory essay on a central theme here: a survey of West Indian theatre and Walcott's engagement with it, particularly the idea of a National Theatre, coupled with an illustrative discussion of the playwright's seminal dramatic spectacle Drums and Colours.
