Tender Is The Heart:

The Law of the Heart Sam B. Girgus, 2014-07-03 The Law of the Heart is a vigorous challenge to the prevailing concept of the antidemocratic image of the self in the American literary and cultural tradition Sam B Girgus counters this interpretation and attempts to develop a new understanding of democratic individualism and liberal humanism in American literature under the rubric of literary modernism The image of the individual self who retreats inward conforming to a distorted law of the heart emerges from the works of such writers as Cooper and Poe and composer Charles Ives Yet as Girgus shows other American writers relate the idea of the self to reality and culture in a more complex way the self confronts and is reconciled to the paradox of history and reality In Girgus view the tradition of pragmatic humanistic individualism provides a foundation for a future where individual liberty is a major priority He uses literary modernism as a bridge for relating contemporary social conditions to crises of the American self and culture as seen in the works of writers including Emerson Howells Whitman Henry James William James Fitzgerald Bellow and McLuhan

Jonathan Edwards,1851 Religious Affections Jonathan Edwards,2009-01-01 This volume contains Edwards most mature and persistent attempt to judge the validity of the religious development in eighteenth century America known as the Great Awakening In developing criteria for such judgment he attacked at the same time one of the fundamental questions facing all religion how to distinguish genuine from spurious piety The Awakening created much bitter controversy on the one side stood the emotionalists and enthusiasts and on the other the rationalists for whom religion was essentially a matter of morality or good conduct and the acceptance of properly formulated doctrine Edwards with great analytical skill and enormous biblical learning showed that both sides were in the wrong He attacked both a lifeless morality as too pale as to be the essence of religion and he rejected the excesses of a purely emotional religion more concerned for sensational effects than for the inner transformation of the self which was for him the center of genuine Christianity *A treatise concerning religious Affections.
