The Best Of It:

The Best of It Chris Kane, 2000-12 At the center of the stories is Kate the matriarch a woman of unrealized possibilities whose disappointments in life are masked by a veneer of cruelty which affects them all especially her daughter Bridget subject of eight of the stories Beginning in County Mayo Ireland the fifteen short stories in The Best of It lay bare the complexities and contradictions the lights and shadows that plague the immigrant Quinn family as they move from the old and embrace the new Included in the stories are Bea's attempts to remain true to her religious beliefs in a loveless marriage Timeen's patriotic fervor which leads him with Patton's Army into the Black Forest John who thought he had left behind forever the dyin that so darkened his childhood Bridget in the second generation becomes Sister Bridget whose life in the convent mirrors the aspirations and disappointments of her forebears Getting the Best of It David Sklansky, 1997 Contains six sections discussing probability poker blackjack other casino games sports betting and general gambling concepts This book contains some of the most sophisticated gambling ideas that have ever been put into print Included is perhaps the best discussion of the basic mathematics of gambling yet it is written so that even the most non mathematical of readers can understand it Many of the ideas discussed are those that the author himself has successfully used during his career Topics include expectation combinations Baye's Theorem the eight mistakes in poker checking in the dark playing tight The Key Card Concept casinos and their mistakes crapless craps betting sports hedging and middling knowing what's important the Law of Averages and Other Fallacies and much more Making the Best of It John G. Stackhouse, 2011-10 What should be the Christian's attitude toward society When so much of our contemporary culture is at odds with Christian beliefs and mores it may seem that serious Christians now have only two choices transform society completely according to Christian values or retreat into the cloister of sectarian fellowship In Making the Best of It John Stackhouse offers a more balanced and fruitful alternative to these extremes He argues that rather than trying to root up the weeds in the cultural field or trying to shun them Christians should practice persistence in gardening God's world and building toward the New Jerusalem The Best of It Kay Ryan, 2010-03-09 Kay Ryan's recent appointment as the Library of Congress's sixteenth poet laureate is just the latest in an amazing array of accolades for this wonderfully accessible widely loved poet Salon has compared her poems to Fabergé eggs tiny ingenious devices that inevitably conceal some hidden wonder The two hundred poems in Ryan's The Best of It offer a stunning retrospective of her work as well as a swath of never before published poems of which are sure to appeal equally to longtime fans and general readers Making the Best of It Sarah Glassford, Amy J. Shaw, 2020-04-15 Many women who lived through the Second World War believed it heralded new status and opportunities but scholars have argued that very little changed How can these interpretations be reconciled Making the Best of It examines the ways in which gender and other identities intersected to shape the experiences of female Canadians and Newfoundlanders during the war The contributors to this thoughtful collection consider mainstream and minority populations girls and women and different parts of Canada and Newfoundland They reassess topics such as women in the military and in munitions factories and tackle entirely new subjects such as wartime girlhood in Quebec Collectively these essays broaden the scope of what we know about the changes the war wrought in the lives of Canadian women and girls and address wider debates about memory historiography and feminism
