Hollywood's Censor Thomas Doherty, 2009-03-31 From 1934 to 1954 Joseph I Breen a media savvy Victorian Irishman reigned over the Production Code Administration the Hollywood office tasked with censoring

the American screen Though little known outside the ranks of the studio system this former journalist and public relations agent was one of the most powerful men in the motion picture industry As enforcer of the puritanical Production Code Breen dictated final cut over more movies than anyone in the history of American cinema His editorial decisions profoundly influenced the images and values projected by Hollywood during the Great Depression World War II and the Cold War Cultural historian Thomas Doherty tells the absorbing story of Breen s ascent to power and the widespread effects of his reign Breen vetted story lines blue penciled dialogue and excised footage a process that came to be known as Breening to fit the demands of his strict moral framework Empowered by industry insiders and millions of like minded Catholics who supported his missionary zeal Breen strove to protect innocent souls from the temptations beckoning from the motion picture screen There were few elements of cinematic production beyond Breen s reach he oversaw the editing of A list feature films low budget B movies short subjects previews of coming attractions and even cartoons Populated by a colorful cast of characters including Catholic priests Jewish moguls visionary auteurs hardnosed journalists and bluenose agitators Doherty s insightful behind the scenes portrait brings a tumultuous era and an individual both feared and admired to vivid life

Hollywood's Frontier Captives Barbara A. Mortimer, 2018-10-24 The captivity narrative the earliest genre of American popular literature continues to be of cultural significance in late 20th century Hollywood Many popular films of the last four decades incorporate the most common elements of the captivity narrative tradition including a politically contested frontier setting and a plot involving innocent family oriented white Americans held captive by hostile culturally alien natives At the same time these films offer something new to the narrative tradition they focus on the captive who resists rescue and the challenge this resistance poses to American cultural self confidence By focusing on the lost captive these films beginning with The Searchers 1956 deal with questions about American identity raised by a white American s cultural and potentially political transformation Films as diverse as Little Big Man Taxi Driver and The Deer Hunter adapted the captivity narrative s conventions to criticize aspects of contemporary American society and reject outworn models of male heroism at the same time however they retained the genre s traditional assumption of white superiority and its fear of female sexuality

Bibliography Index Hollywood's Ancient Worlds Jeffrey Richards, 2008-07-01 Jeffrey Richards examines the cultural social economic and technological circumstances that dictated the rise and decline of each successive cycle of Ancient World epics from the silent film era to the golden age of the 1950s right up to the present day Gladiator 300 Rome Analysis reveals that historical films are always as much about the time in which they are made as they are about the time in which they are set The ancient world is often used to deliver messages to the contemporary audience about the present hostility to totalitarian regimes both Fascist and Communist concern at the decline of Christianity support for the new state of Israel celebrations of equality and democracy and concern about changing gender roles The whole adds up to a fresh look at a body of films that people think they know but about which they will learn a good deal more Miff Garbo's Hotel Chateau Hollywood Len
