Narrative Fiction and Death Sabine Köllmann, 2023-09-29 Narrative Fiction and Death Dying Imagined offers a new perspective on the study of death in literature. It focuses on narrative fiction that conveys the experience of dying from the internal perspective of a dying protagonist. Writers from Victor Hugo in the early 1800s to Elif Shafak in the present day have imagined the unknowable final moments on the threshold to death. This literary study examines the wide range of narrative strategies used to evoke the transition from life to death and to what effect, revealing not only each writer's unique way of representing the dying experience. The comparative reading also finds common concerns in these texts and uncovers surprising parallels and unexplored intertextual relations between works across time and space that will interest comparatists as well as specialists in the literatures discussed. Students of individual texts examined here will benefit from detailed analyses of these works. The fictional evocation of dying addresses our basic human fears, offering catharsis, consolation, and a greater cognitive and emotional understanding of that unknowable experience. Presented in an engaging and highly readable manner, this study argues for literature's potential to challenge our assumptions about the end of life and change our approach to dying, an aspect that will interest students and researchers of the health humanities, palliative caregivers, and all those interested in questions of the end of life.

The Gruppe 47 fifty years on a re-appraisal of its literary and political significance K. Stuart Parkes, John J. White, 1999 Die Gruppe 47 Bryanna Woll, 2008 Group 47: the Reflected Intellect Siegfried Mandel, 1973. This is the first complete and comprehensive book in English on the important postwar German writers known as Group 47. The group, established in 1947 after the newspaper Der Ruf was banned, was inspired by a belief in the effectiveness of literature to change society and for two decades served as initiator of new trends and barometer of changing literary tastes and social conditions. There are so many important writers connected with the group that Mandel had divided his book into chapters covering the various genres produced but has considered in detail the works of major writers while discussing many lesser ones. Mandel's book is therefore a history of German postwar literature and its ideology and also a critical encyclopedia of individual authors.
