

The background of the image is a composite of three distinct scenes. The top half features a deep purple night sky filled with numerous small, bright white stars. A prominent shooting star, or meteor, streaks from the upper left towards the center, leaving a long, glowing trail of golden-yellow sparks that curves upwards. The bottom half of the image shows a vibrant sunset or sunrise. The sun is a bright, glowing orb partially obscured by the dark, silhouetted peaks of mountains. The sky transitions from a fiery orange near the horizon to a soft pink and then to the purple of the night sky above. The calm surface of a body of water in the foreground perfectly reflects the colors of the sunset and the dark outlines of the mountains.
