Women and New Hollywood Aaron Hunter,Martha Shearer,2023-05-12 The 1970s has often been hailed as a great moment for American film as a generation of New Hollywood directors like Scorsese Coppola and Altman offered idiosyncratic visions of what movies could be Yet the auteurist discourse hailing these directors as the sole authors of their films has obscured the important creative roles women played in the 1970s American film industry Women and New Hollywood revises our understanding of this important era in American film by examining the contributions that women made not only as directors but also as screenwriters editors actors producers and critics Including essays on film history film texts and the decade s film theory and criticism this collection showcases the rich and varied cinematic products of women s creative labor as well as the considerable barriers they faced It considers both women working within and beyond the Hollywood film industry reconceptualizing New Hollywood by bringing it into dialogue with other American cinemas of the 1970s By valuing the many forms of creative labor involved in film production this collection offers exciting alternatives to the auteurist model and new ways of appreciating the themes and aesthetics of 1970s American film Australian Cinema

Empire of Illusion Chris Hedges,2009-07-28 Pulitzer prize winner Chris Hedges charts the dramatic and disturbing rise of a post literate society that craves fantasy ecstasy and illusion Chris Hedges argues that we now live in two societies One the minority functions in a print based literate world that can cope with complexity and can separate illusion from truth The other a growing majority is retreating from a reality based world into one of false certainty and magic In this other society serious film and theatre as well as newspapers and books are being pushed to the margins In the tradition of Christopher Lasch s The Culture of Narcissism and Neil Postman's Amusing Ourselves to Death Hedges navigates this culture attending WWF contests as well as Ivy League graduation ceremonies exposing an age of terrifying decline and heightened self delusion Shawn Michaels Stephen Ciacciarelli, 2013 A biography of pro wrestler Shawn Michaels from childhood to gifted athlete to world heavyweight champion Crushing on the Cowboy Sarah M. classic Hollywood studio system led in part and for less than a decade to a production trend heavily influenced by the international art cinema. Reflecting a new self-consciousness in the US about the national film patrimony, this period is known as the Hollywood Renaissance. However, critical study of the period is generally associated with its so-called principal auteurs, slighting a number of established and emerging directors who were responsible for many of the era's most innovative and artistically successful releases. With contributions from leading film scholars, this book provides a revisionist account of this creative resurgence by discussing and memorializing twenty-four directors of note who have not yet been given a proper place in the larger history of the period. Including filmmakers such as Hal Ashby, John Frankenheimer, Mike Nichols, and Joan Micklin Silver, this more expansive approach to the auteurism of the late 1960s and 1970s seems not only appropriate but pressing, a necessary element of the re-evaluation of Hollywood with which cinema studies has been preoccupied under the challenges posed by the emergence and flourishing of new media.
