Durward Walter Scott,1894 Waverley Novels Walter Scott,1894 Film Landscapes Graeme Harper,Jonathan Rayner,2014-08-26 This book brings together critical and theoretical essays examining the connections between films and landscapes It showcases the work of established and emerging academics whose research probes the complex relationships between moving images and the filmed environment and accounts for the impactful effects of viewing lived spaces and human places on screen The essays in this collection actively engage with examples of contemporary popular and art cinema genre films and auteur canon historical films propaganda documentary and animation in their explorations of the meanings with which filmed landscapes are endowed and invested The breadth of the study is matched by the depth of the interest with writers here approaching the subject of film landscapes as critics as film practitioners and as teachers of film studies and film making Film Landscapes gives voice to a great many ideas and includes coverage of a great many films but it also points forward to ways in which we might revisit discussions of the environments of film and consider ways in which history and creativity critical understanding and the interaction of human beings and place could be reconsidered and revised to produce new insights

A Horror and a Beauty: The World of Peter Ackroyd's London Novels Petr Chalupský,2016-02-01 Peter Ackroyd is one of the foremost contemporary British London writers He focuses on the capital its history development and identity both in his fiction and non fiction The London of his novels is thus a highly idiosyncratic construct which reflects and derives from its author s ideas about the actual city s nature as well as his concept of the English literary sensibility in general as he outlines them in his lectures and historical and literary studies It is an exceptionally heterogeneous city of enormous diversity and richness of human experience moods and emotion of actions and events and also of the tools through which these are re presented and reenacted According to Ackroyd this heterogeneity mostly originates outside the sites and domains of the established or mainstream cultural production and social norms and conventions particularly in occult practices subversive acts and the plotting of radical individuals or groups criminal and fraudulent activities of various kinds dubious scientific experiments and the popular dramatic forms of ritual and entertainment whose permanent encounters with and contesting of the officially approved and prescribed forms instigate the city s vitalising energy for dynamic change and spiritual renewal This book presents the world of Ackroyd s London novels as a distinct chronotope determined by specific spatial and temporal properties and their mutual interconnectedness Although such a concept of urban space in its essence defies categorisation the book is thematically organised around six defining aspects of the city as Ackroyd identifies them the relationship between its past and present its uncanny manifestations its felonious tendencies its inhabitants psychogeographic and antiquarian strategies its theatricality and its inherently literary character

Hang 'Em High Bob Herzberg,2013-09-11 For more than a century the Western film has proven to be an enduring genre At the dawn of the 20th century in the same years that The Great Train Robbery begat a film genre Owen Wister wrote The Virginian which began a new literary genre From the beginning both literature and film would usually perpetuate the myth of the Old West as a place where justice always triumphed and all concerned except the villains pursued the Law The facts however reflect abuses of due process lynch mobs and hired gunslingers rather than lawmen regularly pursued lawbreakers vengeance rather than justice was often employed and even in courts of law justice didn t always prevail Some films and novels bucked this trend however This book discusses the many Western films as well as the novels they are based on that illustrate distortions of the law in the Old West and the many ways most of them marked by vengeance in which its characters pursued justice

Robert Louis Stevenson and the Art of Collaboration Murfin Audrey Murfin,2019-08-05 Explores Robert Louis Stevenson s collaborative processContains new readings of thirteen works by Robert Louis Stevenson including several rarely discussed Sheds light on connections between authorship celebrity the literary marketplace and the creative process Supported by extensive manuscript research This book investigates Stevenson's literary collaborations with family and friends as he travelled Scotland America and the Pacific With critical readings of both major and minor Stevenson texts supported and contextualised by unpublished manuscripts and letters by both Stevenson and those he wrote with this book argues that Stevenson's writings are both a product of and a meditation on collaborative writing Stevenson's self-reflective body of work reimagines late Victorian authorship by examining the ways that authors choose material negotiate the marketplace and ultimately maintain power over their own words or let that power go

The Black Border and Fugitive Narration in Black American Literature Paula von Gleich, 2022-03-07 This book tests the limits of fugitivity as a concept in recent Black feminist and Afro-pessimist thought It follows the conceptual travels of confinement and flight through three major Black writing traditions in North America from the 1840s to the early 21st century Cultural analysis is the basic methodological approach and recent concepts of captivity and fugitivity in Afro-pessimist and Black feminist theory form the theoretical framework

Waverley Novels: Quentin Durward Walter Scott, 1902

The Fiction of History Alexander Lyon Macfie, 2014-08-13 The Fiction of History sets out a number of themes in the relationship between history and fiction emphasising the tensions and dilemmas created in this relationship and examining how various writers have dealt with these In the first part two chapters discuss the philosophy behind the connection between fiction and history whether history is fiction and the distinction between the past and history Part two goes on to discuss the relationship between history and literature using case studies such as Virginia Woolf and Charles Dickens Part three looks at television and film as well as other media through case studies such as the film Welcome to Sarajevo and Soviet and Australian films Part four considers a particular theme that has prominence in both history and literature postcolonial studies focusing on the issues of fictions of nationhood and civilization and the historical novel in postcolonial contexts Finally the fifth section comprises two interviews with novelists Penelope Lively and Adam Thorpe and discusses the ways in which their works explore the nature of history itself
