Excerpt from book in Alice spoke next: What day of the month is it? The thirtieth. Mary answered. Then we've been here exactly five months to-day. That's nothing, said Mary, to the months and years we shall be here. I can't think what possessed Papa to come and bury us all in this rotten place. Can't you, Mary? Her eyes turned from their brooding. Her voice was very quiet, barely perceptible, the significant stress. Oh, if you mean it's me, he wants to bury you. You needn't rub that in. I'm not rubbing it in. You are. You're rubbing it in every time you look like that. That's the beastly part of it. Supposing he does want to get back on me, why should he go and punish you two? If he thinks he's punishing me, he's sold. said Gwenda. He couldn't have stuck you in a rotten hole. Gwenda raised her head. A hole? Why, there's no end to it. You can go for miles and miles without meeting anybody, unless some darling mountain sheep gets up and looks at you. It's it's a divine place. Ally. Wait till you've been another five months in it. You'll be as sick as I am. I don't think so. You haven't seen the moon get up over Greffington.

Edge If you had if you knew what this place was like you wouldn't lie there grizzling You wouldn't talk about punishing You'd wonder what you'd done to be allowed to look at it to live in it a day Of course I'm not going to let on to Papa that I'm in love with it Mary smiled again It's all very well for you she said As long as you've got a moor to walk on you're all right Yes I'm all right Gwenda said Her head had sunk again and rested in the hollow of her arms Her voice muffled in her sleeve came soft and thick It died for drowsiness In the extreme immobility and

The Autobiography of an Unknown South African Noboth Mokgatle, 2023-04-28 The Autobiography of an Unknown South African by Naboth Mokgatle offers a detailed and rich narrative of the author's life and his tribal roots providing a vivid glimpse into the customs traditions and history of the Bafokeng people of South Africa

Mokgatle begins with his family history recounting the circumstances of his birth in 1911 in Phokeng a tribal village in the Rustenburg district of the Transvaal Province He describes the complex dynamics of his family shaped by both African traditions and the influence of Christianity which often created tension in their practices The narrative reveals the traditional African values of marriage gender roles and the discipline instilled in children highlighting how his father s strict yet caring nature governed their upbringing Through anecdotes about his siblings and the unique family circumstances Mokgatle intertwines personal stories with broader cultural themes demonstrating how tribal laws and Christian beliefs shaped his family s life and the society they inhabited The book also delves into the historical and cultural legacy of Mokgatle s Bafokeng tribe tracing their migration from Lesotho to Botswana and eventually to the Transvaal The tribe s identity symbolized by the crocodile is intricately tied to their customs including circumcision marriage traditions and communal living Mokgatle recounts how the tribe split into three sections due to a dispute over chieftainship leading to the formation of independent clans that still maintained cultural ties and a shared identity Through vivid descriptions of agricultural practices food preparation and the artistry of pottery Mokgatle portrays a self sufficient community deeply connected to the land and its resources He also reflects on the impact of European influence and Christianity on the tribe which introduced both modern conveniences and challenges to traditional ways of life This autobiography stands as both a personal memoir and a cultural archive capturing the complexities of transitioning from traditional African society to a modern colonized world This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1971
