Situated Fathering A Focus On Physical :

Situated Fathering William Marsiglio, Kevin Roy, Greer Litton Fox, 2005-07-28 Situated Fathering proposes a new theoretical framework for studying how various contingencies of physical space in conjunction with social symbolic issues affect men's identities as fathers and their involvement with children. Written largely for family scholars and students by an interdisciplinary team of leading scholars, this distinct volume of original research explores fathers in a wide range of physical and social spaces. Contributors outline directions for theoretically guided research in specific often gendered fathering sites.

Situated Fathering William Marsiglio, Kevin Roy, Greer Litton Fox, 2005-07-28 When men act as parents they do so in diverse physical and social spaces imbued with symbolic meaning. They father in the military overseas on the farm in dilapidated inner cities immersed in ethnic neighborhoods navigating idealized places of leisure where families go as stepfathers in spaces where physical dimensions and family meanings intersect as nonresident fathers managing less than ideal conditions rolling across the interstate as long haul truckers playing catch alongside the house managing precious family time in prison work release programs as participants in community fatherhood initiatives etc. Until now family scholars had not explicitly theorized and focused on how physical space shapes fathers' lives. A distinct volume of theoretical and empirical research, Situated Fathering addresses this oversight by proposing a new framework for studying how various contingencies of physical space in conjunction with social symbolic issues affect men's identities as fathers and their involvement with children. Consistent with public interest in men's efforts to be there as providers and caregivers, this book explores issues associated with the barriers and supports to involvement that are part of the physical and social environment. Written largely for family scholars and students, it emphasizes a future-oriented perspective by outlining directions for theoretically guided research in specific often gendered fathering sites.

Marsiglio,Kevin Roy,2012-01-01 American fathers are a highly diverse group but the breadwinning live in biological dad prevails as the fatherhood ideal Consequently policymakers continue to emphasize marriage and residency over initiatives that might help foster healthy father child relationships and creative co parenting regardless of marital or residential status In Nurturing Dads William Marsiglio and Kevin Roy explore the ways new initiatives can address the social cultural and economic challenges men face in contemporary families and foster more meaningful engagement between many different kinds of fathers and their children What makes a good father The firsthand accounts in Nurturing Dads show that the answer to this question varies widely and in ways that counter the mainstream provide and reside model of fatherhood Marsiglio and Roy document the personal experiences of more than 300 men from a wide range of socioeconomic backgrounds and diverse settings including fathers to be young adult fathers middle class dads stepfathers men with multiple children in separate families and fathers in correctional facilities They find that most dads express the desire to have strong close relationships with their children and to develop the nurturing skills to maintain these bonds But they also find that disadvantaged fathers including young dads and those in constrained financial and personal circumstances confront myriad structural obstacles such as poverty inadequate education and poor job opportunities Nurturing Dads asserts that society should help fathers become more committed and attentive caregivers and that federal and state agencies work sites grassroots advocacy groups and the media all have roles to play Recent efforts to introduce state initiated paternity leave should be coupled with social programs that encourage fathers to develop unconditional commitments to children to co parent with mothers to establish partnerships with their children s other caregivers and to develop parenting skills and resources before becoming fathers via activities like volunteering and mentoring kids Ultimately Marsiglio and Roy argue such combined strategies would not only change the policy landscape to promote engaged fathering but also change the cultural landscape to view nurturance as a fundamental aspect of good fathering Care is a human experience not just a woman s responsibility and this core idea behind Nurturing Dads holds important implications for how society supports its families and defines manhood The book promotes the progressive notion that fathers should provide more than financial support and in the process bring about a better start in life for their children A Volume in the American Sociological Association s Rose Series in Sociology Male Femininities Dana Berkowitz,Elroi J.
