

Particle statistics

In a famous series of calculations published in Klug and Alexander it was calculated that IF a powder was crushed to 1 micron in size, the amount of powder in a large cavity mount, would be barely sufficient to achieve 1% reproducibility in intensity.

This calculation assumed a single point detector having a small detection volume which in this example, at 1 micron, would detect 38,000 out of 38 billion particles in the sampling volume. Notice the dramatic increase in available particles as the size is decreased.

How many particles do you need for 1% accuracy in intensity

	40μm	10μm	1μm
diffraction particles	12	760	38000

To achieve 1% accuracy

$$\sigma = \sqrt{n}/n$$

$$\text{Std. err.} = 2.3 \sigma < 1\%$$

$$n > 52,900 \leftarrow$$
