VET Boost: Towards a Theory of Professional Competencies, 2009-01-01

The themes of the different papers in this book are related to five major areas of research First the book presents the work on a large scale assessment in vocational and occupational education and training Reason was the work of Frank Achtenhagen and his colleagues on the preparation of a VET PISA which started in 2004 which has now become more and more a concrete program The contributions to this part of the book contain a project description and profound presentations and discussions of measurement and evaluation problems It reflects also the work of Achtenhagen with respect to item response theory measurement and testing The second part of this book presents a unique endeavour of promoting VET research The Swiss Federal Office for Professional Education and Technology OPET initiated a program of Leading Houses of VET which are dedicated to different important research topics This program might serve as example for comparable approaches in other countries The third part highlights central issues of research on learning processes curriculum theory and the use of technology Here the work of Achtenhagen on competence profile modelling competence measurement and instructional and curriculum designing is touched The fourth part stresses social and emotional learning as important aspects of VET learning The fifth part considers the political and institutional dimensions of VET research which have to be taken into account when an international large scale assessment of VET shall be getting started Achtenhagen s work on learning at work leaning in economics and learning under the conditions of institutional modelling are discussed The whole book is a collection of central issues around a field that is not yet taken enough into consideration in educational research but pushed and supported by Frank Achtenhagen VET research He belongs to the founding fathers of it and this is why precisely the book reflects new trends and new concepts with respect to the question What can we educational psychologists and educational researchers learn from a rich and central research field Writing First with Readings Laurie G. Kirszner, Stephen R. Mandell, 2005-09-28 Writing First teaches the basics of writing and grammar in the context of students own writing Along with a comprehensive treatment of the process of writing paragraphs and essays it helps students develop the fundamental writing skills they need to succeed in college and beyond By providing students with more help in the areas they most need it grammar ESL and high stakes test taking the third edition of Writing First better addresses the realities of the developmental writing course Resources for Teaching Middle School Science Smithsonian Institution, National Academy of Engineering, National Science Resources Center of the National Academy of Sciences, Institute of Medicine, 1998-04-30 With age appropriate inquiry centered curriculum materials and sound teaching practices middle school science can capture the interest and energy of adolescent students and expand their understanding of the world around them Resources for Teaching Middle School Science developed by the National Science Resources Center NSRC is a valuable tool for identifying and selecting effective science curriculum materials that will engage students in grades 6 through 8 The volume describes more than 400 curriculum titles that are aligned with the National Science Education Standards This completely new guide follows on the success of Resources for Teaching Elementary School Science the first in the NSRC series of annotated guides to hands on inquiry centered curriculum materials and other resources for science teachers The curriculum materials in the new guide are grouped in five chapters by scientific area Physical Science Life Science Environmental Science Earth and Space Science and Multidisciplinary and Applied Science They are also grouped by type core materials supplementary units and science activity books Each annotation of curriculum material includes a recommended grade level a description of the activities involved and of what students can be expected to learn a list of accompanying materials a reading level and ordering information The curriculum materials included in this book were selected by panels of teachers and scientists using evaluation criteria developed for the guide The criteria reflect and incorporate goals and principles of the National Science Education Standards The annotations designate the specific content standards on which these curriculum pieces focus In addition to the curriculum chapters the guide contains six chapters of diverse resources that are directly relevant to middle school science Among these is a chapter on educational software and multimedia programs chapters on books about science and teaching directories and guides to science trade books and periodicals for teachers and students Another section features institutional resources One chapter lists about 600 science centers museums and zoos where teachers can take middle school students for interactive science experiences Another chapter describes nearly 140 professional associations and U S government agencies that offer resources and assistance Authoritative extensive and thoroughly indexed and the only guide of its kind Resources for Teaching Middle School Science will be the most used book on the shelf for science teachers school administrators teacher trainers science curriculum specialists advocates of hands on science teaching and concerned parents Accounting Faculty Directory, 1993 James
