Gilberto Perez

Slicing The Moon:

DADA, Surrealism, and the Cinematic Effect R. Bruce Elder, 2015-10-15 This book deals with the early intellectual reception of the cinema and the manner in which art theorists philosophers cultural theorists and especially artists of the first decades of the twentieth century responded to its advent While the idea persists that early writers on film were troubled by the cinema's lowly form this work proposes that there was another largely unrecognized strain in the reception of it Far from anxious about film's provenance in popular entertainment some writers and artists proclaimed that the cinema was the most important art for the moderns as it exemplified the vibrancy of contemporary life This view of the cinema was especially common among those whose commitments were to advanced artistic practices Their notions about how to recast the art media or the forms forged from those media's materials and the urgency of doing so formed the principal part of the conceptual core of the artistic programs advanced by the vanguard art movements of the first half of the twentieth century This book a companion to the author's previous Harmony Dissent examines the Dada and Surrealist movements as responses to the advent of the cinema

The Eloquent Screen Gilberto Perez, 2019-07-23 A lifetime of cinematic writing culminates in this breathtaking statement on film's unique ability to move us Cinema is commonly hailed as the universal language but how does it communicate so effortlessly across cultural and linguistic borders In The Eloquent Screen influential film critic Gilberto

Perez makes a capstone statement on the powerful ways in which film acts on our minds and senses Drawing on a lifetime s worth of viewing and re viewing Perez invokes a dizzying array of masters past and present including Chaplin Ford Kiarostami Eisenstein Malick Mizoguchi Haneke Hitchcock and Godard to explore the transaction between filmmaker and audience He begins by explaining how film fits into the rhetorical tradition of persuasion and argumentation Next Perez explores how film embodies the central tropes of rhetoric metaphor metonymy allegory and synecdoche and concludes with a thrilling account of cinema s spectacular capacity to create relationships of identification with its audiences Although there have been several attempts to develop a poetics of film there has been no sustained attempt to set forth a rhetoric of film one that bridges aesthetics and audience Grasping that challenge The Eloquent Screen shows how cinema as the consummate contemporary art form establishes a thoroughly modern rhetoric in which different points of view are brought into clear focus
