Select Committee on Science and Technology,2009 This report HCP 44 session 2009 10 ISBN 9780215542663 from the Science and Technology Committee looks at literacy programmes evidence check and concludes that expectations by the Department for Children Schools and Families of the quality of the evidence base for reading programmes are worryingly low It urges the Government to commission randomised controlled trials RCTs The Committee also states it is particularly concerned about the quality of evidence demonstrating cost effectiveness of different programmes and further recommends that the Government reviews its guidelines on RCT design it says even Wikipedia is more thorough and informative The Committee also concludes that the Government s focus on early literacy interventions and phonics based teaching is based on the best available evidence the use of Reading Recovery is based on a lower quality of evidence than the Committee is comfortable with and that the decision to introduce Reading Recovery nationally is not evidence based The Committee further expressed alarm that there was a complete lack of randomised controlled trials using standardised test scores for the Reading Recovery programme in the UK school system before national implementation of the programme Sixteen

Perfetti,2013-12-16 How does a young child begin to make sense out of squiggles on a page Is learning to read a process of extending already acquired language abilities to print What comprises this extension How children learn to read and especially how children are taught to read are problems of sustained scientific interest and enduring pedagogical controversy This volume presents conceptual and theoretical analyses of learning to read research on the very beginning processes of learning to read as well as research on phonological abilities and on children who have problems learning to read In so doing it reflects the important discovery that learning to read requires mastering the system by which print encodes the language The editors hope that some of the work offered in this text will influence future research questions and will make a difference in the way instructional issues are formulated Studies by the Bureau of Experimental Psychology R.B. Burns, C.B. Dobson, 2012-12-06 This book has been written to meet several needs Firstly there is a need for a book which integrates statistics research design experiments and report writing so that none is learned in a vacuum as commonly is the case isolated from the others The aim is to make the student an active learner encouraged to carry out experiments so experiencing and understanding the design problems and statistical analyses in the practical context where he can see exactly what he is doing and why The aim is that by the end of the book the student should be able to evaluate the research of others to define a problem formulate a hypothesis about it design and carry out the experiment apply the correct statistics discuss the results and implications and write it all up in a logical and sensible fashion The principle is that old pedagogic one of learning by doing Secondly there is a need for an introductory text on statistics research design and experimental work for the many students who meet psychology and social science for the first time The initiate in behavioural science needs to gain a conceptual understanding of statistical procedures and design techniques in order to carry out his own investigations and to understand and evaluate constructively the investigations of others However experience has shown us that many students and even some fellow teachers are somewhat reluctant to study this area as they believe it is difficult and involves mathematics

Association for Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and Allied Professions (IACAPAP) H. Remschmidt, 2013-06-29 This book contains all of the abstracts of the 16th World Congress of the International Association for Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and Allied Professions IACAPAP held in Berlin Aug 22-26 2004. The abstracts are arranged according to the type of session: main lecture, state of the art lecture, symposium, workshop, course, or poster exhibition, and the day of the conference. The abstracts of the industry-sponsored sessions are also included. A subject index is provided to help track themes of special interest. The author index allows you to find the abstract authors and the address of the first author for direct contact. The general theme of the congress, Facilitating Pathways: Care, Treatment, and Prevention in Child and Adolescent Mental Health, is quite inclusive, and the contributions to the Congress as reflected in the abstracts cover the whole range of child and adolescent mental health endeavour, including all modern methods and trends in research and clinical application. The ways we understand and treat our patients are changing rapidly, and this too is reflected in the contributions to this volume, which give state-of-the-art information that should allow us to provide better care, treatment, and prevention to children, adolescents, and their caregivers everywhere in the world. Bulletin United States.
