Somewhere In New Guinea:

Prosthetic Gods Robert Dixon, 2001 Poems From The Heart Neoma (Hays) Spratt, 2024-08-29 Poems From The Heart is like a personal diary which spans over fifty years of Neoma Spratt's life. She expresses her thoughts and feelings about religion, nature, family, the military, close friends, and politics, even interjecting humor in some poems and Bible scriptures for emphasis in others. About the Author: Neoma Hays Spratt is an active member of the Ohio Valley Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution. She loves teaching Bible classes. Spratt works 1,000 piece puzzles and frames many of them as gifts. She loves going for nature walks. Spratt's favorite music, besides Elvis Presley, is the music from the 40's The Big Band Era. She crochets hats and scarves for the homeless and enjoys sci-fi movies. Spratt has two house cats, Gabe and Terri.

Heroes Among Us Hal Terrell, 2004 As I stood amongst those thousands of white marble crosses I realized I was in a place where every blade of grass appeared to have its own personal caretaker. I was overwhelmed. From Somewhere in France Victor Cleary, 2010-06 From 1939 to 1945 the farming community of Clarksburg, Ohio sent 222 of its sons and daughters to war. 1 in every 5 of its residents. From Somewhere in France is a one of a kind collection of letters written by these men and women, stitched together chronologically and grouped into common themes shared with family and friends. The work includes nearly 200 letters from 70 individuals taking readers on parallel journeys through training to combat and back home to Ohio. Experience first person accounts of camp life, in the states, bombing missions over Europe, battlefield operations from Normandy to Okinawa, letters from POW camps, an eyewitness account of the retaking of Corregidor, and personal reactions to the Holocaust and the atomic destruction of Hiroshima. You have read in depth histories of large units and entire armies during the war, as well as countless individual autobiographies of wartime tales. Now experience the war from the unique perspective of one village. A Galaxy of Verse, Vol. 32, No. 1 Barbara Blanks, editor, 2012-06 A GALAXY OF VERSE. A Galaxy of Verse Literary Foundation is a non-profit 501(c)(3) organization that publishes member submitted poems, hosts member sponsored cash prize contests, and aims to produce two issues of its anthology each year. Military Medicine Armed Forces Medical Library (U.S.), 1955 Our Army, 1943 Mountains, Gold and Cannibals Mrs. Doris Regina Wilde Booth, Doris Regina Wilde Booth, 1929 Nature Revealed Edward O. Wilson, 2006-03 Two-time Pulitzer Prize winner Edward O. Wilson is one of the leading biologists and philosophical thinkers of our time. In this compelling collection, Wilson's observations range from the tiny glands of ants to the nature of the living universe. Many of the pieces are considered landmarks in evolutionary biology, ecology, and behavioral biology. Wilson explores topics as diverse as slavery in ants the genetic basis of societal structure the discovery of the taxon cycle the original formulation of the theory of island biogeography a critique of subspecies as a unit of classification and the conservation of life's diversity Each article is presented in its original form dating from Wilson's first published article in 1949 to his most recent exploration of the natural world Preceding each piece is a brief essay by Wilson that explains the context in which the article was written and provides insights into the scientist himself and the debates of the time This collection enables us to share Wilson's various vantage points and to view the complexities of nature through his eyes Wilson aficionados along with readers discovering his work for the first time will find in this collection a world of beauty complexity and challenge

The Oxford Handbook of Polysynthesis Michael Fortescue, Marianne Mithun, Nicholas Evans, 2017-09-28 This handbook offers an extensive crosslinguistic and cross theoretical survey of polysynthetic languages in which single multi morpheme verb forms can express what would be whole sentences in English These languages and the problems they raise for linguistic analyses have long featured prominently in language descriptions and yet the essence of polysynthesis remains under discussion right down to whether it delineates a distinct coherent type rather than an assortment of frequently co occurring traits Chapters in the first part of the handbook relate polysynthesis to other issues central to linguistics such as complexity the definition of the word the nature of the lexicon idiomaticity and to typological features such as argument structure and head marking Part two contains areal studies of those geographical regions of the world where polysynthesis is particularly common such as the Arctic and Sub Arctic and northern Australia The third part examines diachronic topics such as language contact and language obsolescence while part four looks at acquisition issues in different polysynthetic languages Finally part five contains detailed grammatical descriptions of over twenty languages which have been characterized as polysynthetic with special attention given to the presence or absence of potentially criterial features

Norfolk and Western Magazine Norfolk and Western Railway Company, 1944 Racial Science and Human Diversity in Colonial Indonesia Fenneke Sysling, 2016-07-15 Indonesia is home to diverse peoples who differ from one another in terms of physical appearance as well as social and cultural practices The way such matters are understood is partly rooted in ideas developed by racial scientists working in the Netherlands Indies beginning in the late nineteenth century who tried to develop systematic ways to define and identify distinctive races Their work helped spread the idea that race had a scientific basis in anthropometry and craniology and was central to people's identity but their encounters in the archipelago also challenged their ideas about race In this new monograph Fenneke Sysling draws on published works and private papers to describe the way Dutch racial scientists tried to make sense of the human diversity in the Indonesian archipelago The making of racial knowledge it contends cannot be explained solely in terms of internal European intellectual developments It was on the ground that ideas about race were made and unmade with a set of knowledge strategies that did not always combine well Sysling describes how skulls were assembled through the colonial infrastructure how measuring sessions were resisted what role photography and plaster casting played in racial science and shows how these aspects of science in practice were entangled with the Dutch colonial Empire
