Sensitive Son and the Feminine Ideal in Literature Myron Tuman,2019-05-11 This book considers major male writers from the last three centuries whose relation to a strong often distant woman one sometimes modeled on their own mother forms the romantic core of their greatest narratives Myron Tuman explores the theory that there is an underlying psychological type the sensitive son connecting these otherwise diverse writers The volume starts and ends with Jean Jacques Rousseau whose Confessions provides an early portrait of one such son There are chapters on other adoring sons Stendhal Sacher Masoch Scott Fitzgerald and Turgenev as well as on sons like Bernard Shaw and D H Lawrence with a different less affectionate psychological disposition toward women This book demonstrates how despite many differences the best works of all these sensitive sons reflect the deep contorted nature of their desire a longing that often seems less for an actual woman than for an elusive feminine ideal The Moon's Dominion Gavriel Reisner,1981 Posits a causal relationship between two themes in Lawrence's fiction usually thought to be unrelated: the dominance of women and the conflict between the tale and the teller. The connection is revealed in the course of a systematic analysis of the tale-teller division in Lawrence's earlier novels. Proceedings of the Scotch Irish Congress Scotch-Irish Society of America, 1900
