Some Irish Loving A Selection:

Some Irish Loving Edna O'Brien, 1979 Irish Literature Mary Ketsin, 2004 Irish literature's roots have been traced to the 7th-9th century. This is a rich and hardy literature starting with descriptions of the brave deeds of kings, saints and other heroes. These were followed by generous veins of religious, historical, genealogical, scientific and other works. The development of prose, poetry and drama raced along with the times. Modern well-known Irish writers include William Yeats, James Joyce, Sean Casey, George Bernard Shaw, Oscar Wilde, John Synge and Samuel Beckett.

Edna O'Brien and the Art of Fiction Maureen O'Connor, 2021-10-15 Edna O'Brien and the Art of Fiction provides an urgent retrospective consideration of one of the English-speaking world's best-selling and most prolific contemporary authors. This study considers the pioneering ways O'Brien represents women's experience, family relationships, the natural world, sex, creativity and death, and her work's long anticipation of movements such as metoo.

Wild Colonial Girl Lisa Colletta, Maureen O'Connor, 2006-08-15 Since the 1960 publication of her first novel The Country Girls, award-winning Irish writer Edna O'Brien has been both celebrated and maligned. Praised for her lyrical prose and vivid female characters and attacked for her frank treatment of sexuality and alleged sensationalism, O'Brien and her work seem always to spawn controversy, including the past banning in Ireland of several of her works. O'Brien's attention to women's concerns such as sex, romance, marriage and childbirth has often relegated her to critical neglect at best and at worst outright contempt. This essay collection promises to be a long overdue critical reevaluation and exciting rediscovery of her oeuvre. Wild Colonial Girl situates O'Brien in Irish contexts that allow for an appraisal of her significant contribution to a specifically Irish women's literary tradition while attesting to the potency of writing against patriarchal conventions. Each chapter's clear and detailed readings of O'Brien's fiction build a convincing case for her literary, political and cultural importance, providing an invaluable critical guide for an enriched appreciation of O'Brien and her work.

Reference Guide to Short Fiction Thomas Riggs, 1999 Reference Guide to Short Fiction provides study and commentary on the most instrumental writers of short fiction through the 20th century. International in scope, this single scholarly volume includes 779 entries on 377 authors and 402 short stories.

Dark Fathers Into Light Richard Pine, 1994 Brendan Kennelly is one of Ireland's most distinguished poets, lecturers and broadcasters. He is a renowned editor and anthologist and was Professor of Modern Literature at Trinity College Dublin until his retirement. This collection of essays addresses Kennelly's work comprehensively and includes a biographical portrait, an extensive bibliography and a penetrating interview. It portrays Kennelly as a man of two villages: his birthplace of Ballylongford in County Kerry and his workplace of Trinity College Dublin, while locating him in the world of poetry as a craftsman who cares passionately about the continuing importance of lyric and narrative poetry and indeed the nature of language and the status of writing. The essays are by leading literary critics and Kennelly specialists: Jonathan Allison, Terence Brown, Gerald Dawe, Gabriel Fitzmaurice, Augustine Martin, Kathleen McCracken, Ke Persson, Richard Pine and Anthony Roche.

The book has a Foreword by Ireland's President Michael D Higgins Books Ireland, 1996 Celtic Studies O.
