Somewhere Up Ahead:

The Bicycle Life of Oliver Possum Complete Series Chip Haynes, 2025-03-07 Oliver Possum's life is filled with his love for bicycles and the occasional pie. Come along as we share the complete tales of Oliver Possum's Bicycle Life as he rides from one adventure into the next. We'll be making discoveries, visiting the town, and making friends along the way, even if it might rain. Oliver even finds a chance to take a walk with a young joey, but Oliver always makes it back home by dark. Oliver and all his animal friends make for a feel-good adventure, perfect for early readers with lessons around relationships and experiences. It encourages readers to explore just outside their door and within their own hometown, as well as nurtures a love for bicycles. The quirky jokes and sense of innocence and joy is fun to read for all ages. Chip Haynes started writing this tale with his late wife and now has handed the stories to those little possums in our life. The quirky artwork is only a glimpse of the bright, warm tales written within, which emphasize positivity and finding joy in the small things in our everyday lives.

Oliver Possum's Storm Chip Haynes, 2024-09-10 Oh dear, it is that rain! There are good rides and great adventures. Oliver was having a good ride until it became a great adventure. Oliver forgot to look out for rain clouds. Now his only goal is to get home safe if not dry. After the storm finally passes him by, there's still time for a lively competition with friends and a nice warm slice of pie.

West and East (The War That Came Early, Book Two) Harry Turtledove, 2011-05-24 What if British prime minister Neville Chamberlain had defied Hitler? What if the Munich Accord had gone unsigned and Nazi Germany had launched its bid for conquest sooner? How would World War II have unfolded, and with what consequences? Dean of alternate history Harry Turtledove has the stunning answers in his breathtaking sequel to Hitler's War. In the wake of Hitler's bold invasion of Czechoslovakia, nations turn against nations, old enemies form new alliances, and ordinary men and women confront extraordinary life and death situations. An American marine falls in love with a Russian dancer in Japanese-held Singapore as Chinese guerilla resistance erupts. A sniper on the frontlines of France finds a powerful new way to ply his deadly art while a German assassin hunts him. In the icy North Atlantic, as a U-boat with a secret weapon wreaks havoc on British ships, occupying Nazi forces target Denmark. And in Germany, a stranded American woman encounters Hitler himself as a Jewish family faces the rising tide of hatred. From Siberia to Spain, armies clash, sides are chosen, new weapons raise the deadly ante, and new strategies seek to break a growing stalemate. But one question hangs over the conflict from West to East: What will it take to bring America into this war?

Beyond the Far Mountain Dick Falcio, 2014-05-01 In the rough 1880s coal-mining town of Jericho, West Virginia, young Jonas McNabb is unjustly accused of knifing a man and is forced to flee into the mountains, one step ahead of the law. But in spite of this, he doubles back in a daring move to assure Laura Becker of his innocence and his love. Now Jonas faces a treacherous winter in the Appalachian Mountains and must call upon every ounce of his courage and resolve to survive, driven by the need to somehow clear his name and return for Laura. His chances for success rely heavily upon a fortuitous encounter with a crusty old mountain man, Jebediah, and the wondrous wolf dog, Savage.

limelight from the very start of her profession. Spanning a career of more than 23 years, she has worked on esteemed residential and leisure projects for presidents, African royalty, captains of industry, and five-star hotels, to name but a few. Through the rough and often very challenging terrain of her chosen career, sprinkled generously with the high-end glamour of prestigious interiors that Nthabi has been privileged to work on, she learned that she in fact had to be seated right within her own interior before she could offer anything further to those in search of her creative gift. And as she searched and explored the greater world of design, trying to grasp what it really took to be an esteemed designer, the journey unexpectedly brought her right back into her own home. Not only Nthabi's physical home but also to her inner home, the place that she refers to as her real interior. It was in writing a letter one evening congratulating herself on reaching the milestone of 21 years in her career that Nthabi discovered she was not only writing to herself but to every creative. Her letter ended up being an entire book, and Nthabi finally understood how her unique story could inspire and encourage others. Next Voyage Will Be Different! Thomas E. Henry, 2008. I am privileged to know Tom Henry personally, a man who has devoted much of his amazing life to the art of seafaring. His remarkable story of a young man setting out on a traditional maritime career and then spending a great deal of his life at sea is sure to fascinate those addicted to old-fashioned mariner's tales. It is a charming story of a once common lifestyle that has now almost entirely disappeared. I recommend it highly. Joseph Balkoski, author of Omaha Beach D Day, June 6, 1944. Life at sea is always a fascinating subject. With charm, wit, and a storyteller's skill, Henry brings alive his decades-long career as a merchant seaman with great stories about people, exotic places, and the day-to-day business of a ship's officer at work and play. It is a tale that only an old sailor could tell. A terrific read for sea buffs and landlubbers alike. Raymond J. Batvinis, PhD, author of The Origins of FBI Counter Intelligence. Thomas E. Henry was born and raised on the south shore of Long Island, New York. There he attended the local Babylon schools until March 1945 when he left at age seventeen to serve on active duty in the U.S. Naval Reserve. During his year and a half in the Navy, he achieved the rank of gunner's mate, third class. Following his discharge from the service, he attended on the GI Bill the Cathedral School of Saint Paul in Garden City, New York. He graduated in June 1947 with his high school diploma. In 1951, he graduated from the Massachusetts Maritime Academy, which schooled him for a life in the United States Merchant Marine. In 1985, at age fifty-seven and after thirty-three years of service, he retired. He had sailed as a ship's master with the United States Lines Company. For the following three years, he served on periods of active duty in the Naval Reserve as a ship handling instructor at Little Creek, Virginia. He and Barbara, his devoted wife of over thirty years, reside in Stuart, Florida, where Captain Henry is presently employed as an instructor at the well-known Chapman School of Seamanship. Servants of Miklagard R. Unwittingly, they upset the schemes of the Eparchos and become reluctantly accepted as the genesis of the Varangian Guard.
