Slavery Imperialism And Freedom Essays In English Radical Thought:

Main Currents in Caribbean Thought Gordon K. Lewis, 2004-01-01 Main Currents in Caribbean Thought probes deeply into the multicultural origins of Caribbean society defining and tracing the evolution of the distinctive ideology that has arisen from the region's unique historical mixture of peoples and beliefs Among the topics that noted scholar Gordon K Lewis covers are the sixteenth and seventeenth century beginnings of Caribbean thought pro and antislavery ideologies the growth of Antillean nationalist and anticolonialist thought during the nineteenth century and the development of the region's characteristic secret religious cults from imported religions and European thought Since its original publication in 1983 Main Currents in Caribbean Thought has remained one of the most ambitious works to date by a leader in modern Caribbean scholarship By looking into the Caribbean mind Lewis shows how European African and Asian ideas became creolized and Americanized creating an entirely new ideology that continues to shape Caribbean thought and society today The Americas in the Age of Revolution, 1750-1850 Lester D. Langley, 1996-01-01 Langley examines the political and social tensions reverberating throughout British French and Spanish America pointing out the characteristics that distinguished each upheaval from the others the impact of place or location on the course of revolution the dynamics of race and color as well as class the relation between leaders and followers the strength of counterrevolutionary movements and especially the way that militarization of society during war affected the new governments in the postrevolutionary era Langley argues that an understanding of the legacy of the revolutionary age sheds tremendous light on the political condition of the Americas today virtually every modern political issue the relationship of the state to the individual the effectiveness of government the liberal promise for progress and the persistence of color as a critical dynamic in social policy was central to the earlier period

Slavery, Imperialism, and Freedom Gordon K. Lewis, 1978 Affect and Abolition in the Anglo-Atlantic, 1770-1830 Stephen Ahern, 2016-12-05 At the turn of the nineteenth century writers arguing for the abolition of the slave trade and the emancipation of those in bondage used the language of sentiment and the political ideals of the Enlightenment to make their case This collection investigates the rhetorical features and political complexities of the culture of sentimentality as it grappled with the material realities of transatlantic slavery Are the politics of sentimental representation progressive or conservative What dynamics are in play at the site of suffering What is the relationship of the spectator to the spectacle of the body in pain The contributors take up these and related questions in essays that examine poetry plays petitions treatises and life writing that engaged with contemporary debates about abolition Caribbean Slave Revolts and the British Abolitionist Movement Gelien Matthews, 2006-06-15 In this illuminating study Gelien Matthews demonstrates how slave rebellions in the British West Indies influenced the tactics of abolitionists in England and how the rhetoric and actions of the abolitionists emboldened slaves Moving between the world of the British Parliament and the realm of Caribbean plantations Matthews reveals a transatlantic dialectic of antislavery agitation and slave insurrection that eventually influenced the dismantling of slavery in British held territories Focusing on slave revolts that took place in Barbados in 1816 in Demerara in 1823 and in Jamaica in 1831 32 Matthews identifies four key aspects in British abolitionist propaganda regarding Caribbean slavery the denial that antislavery activism prompted slave revolts the attempt to understand and recount slave uprisings from the slaves perspectives the portrayal of slave rebels as victims of armed suppressors and as agents of the antislavery movement and the presentation of revolts as a rationale against the continuance of slavery She makes shrewd use of previously overlooked publications of British abolitionists to prove that their language changed over time in response to slave uprisings Historians previously have examined the economic religious and political bases for slavery s abolishment in the Caribbean but Matthews here emphasizes the agency of slaves in the march toward freedom Her compelling work is a valuable analytical tool in the interpretation of abolition in North America uncovering the important connections between rebellious slaves on one side of the Atlantic and abolitionists on the other side

English Atlantics Revisited Nancy L. Rhoden, 2007-08-09 Inspired by the major themes in Steele s scholarship the original essays in English Atlantics Revisited examine British Atlantic contexts and political economy as well as maritime military Amerindian and social history The contributors offer challenging new findings and perspectives as they revisit the English Atlantics chapters on specific personalities regions and topics reveal the extent of transatlantic cross cultural and trans national interactions English Atlantics Revisited help assess the current state of Atlantic history

Beyond Pain Thomas A. Breslin, 2001-10-30 Breslin demonstrates that for two millennia states in East Asia Europe and America have successfully used pleasure to protect themselves and advance their interests at a small fraction of the cost of militarized policies Indeed the Chinese demonstrated that pleasure based policies primed a stream of highly profitable foreign trade and bolstered the state Pleasure was feared because it was effective as both an offensive and defensive strategy The colleens of Ireland and the bibis of India showed how inexorably effective pleasure could be in confounding militarily stronger invaders In contrast resorting to violence and pain generally undermined aggressive states Cultural factors have shaped the choice of pleasures used Food centered China has used food as well as sex and tourism as tools in its foreign relations Rome used wine Byzantium precious metals banquets and public spectacles Venice sex money and art England money and education America has used sex money education music and tourism Breslin s provocative text is based on a wide reading of secondary sources and some primary sources as well as a quarter century of teaching the history of foreign relations

Joseph Conrad and the Anthropological Dilemma John Wylie Griffith, 1995 By situating Conrad s work in relation to other writings on primitive peoples John Griffith shows how his fiction draws on prominent anthropological and biological theories regarding the degenerative potential of contacts between European and other cultures At the same time however Conrad s work reflected an anthropological dilemma he constantly posed the question of how to bridge conceptual and cultural gaps between various peoples

Edward Long's Libel of Africa Folarin Shyllon, 2021-03-03 This book examines the catalyst role of Edward Long in the development of doctrines of British and European racial supremacy in the critical last quarter of the 18th century through his three volume History of Jamaica published in London in 1774. Long with acrid vehemence denigrated and libelled Africa, Africans and people of African ancestry. It was a work of race vilification which today is still unfortunately the creed of many and which still has ramifications in Britain today exemplified by the unjust and unfair treatment of many black people.

Colonizer and Colonized, 2021-11-08 Over the last two decades the experiences of colonization and decolonization once safely relegated to the margins of what occupied students of history and literature have shifted into the latter's center of attention in the West as elsewhere. This attention does not restrict itself to the historical dimension of colonization and decolonization but also focuses upon their impact upon the present for both colonizers and colonized. The nearly fifty essays here gathered examine how literature now and in the past keeps and has kept alive the experiences both individual and collective of colonization and decolonization. The contributors to this volume hail from the four corners of the earth: East and West, North and South. The authors discussed range from international luminaries past and present such as Aphra Behn, Racine, Blaise Cendrars, Salman Rushdie, Graham Greene, Derek Walcott, Guimarães Rosa, J. M. Coetzee, Andrzej Brink and Assia Djebar to less known but certainly not lesser authors like Gioconda Belli, Ren Depestre, Amadou Kon, Elisa Chimenti, Sapho Arthur, Nortje Es, kia Mphahlele, Mark Behr, Viktor Paskov, Evelyn Wilwert and Leila Houari. Issues addressed include the role of travel writing in forging images of foreign lands for domestic consumption, the reception and translation of Western classics in the East, the impact of contemporary Chinese cinema upon both native and Western audiences and the use of Western generic novel conventions in modern Egyptian literature.

Nation & Narration Homi K Bhabha, 2013-04-15 Bhabha in his preface writes: Nations like narratives lose their origins in the myths of time and only fully encounter their horizons in the mind's eye. From this seemingly impossibly metaphorical beginning this volume confronts the realities of the concept of nationhood as it is lived and the profound ambivalence of language as it is written. From Gillian Beer's reading of Virginia Woolf, Rachel Bowlby's cultural history of Uncle Tom's Cabin and Francis Mulhern's study of Leavisite's English ethics to Doris Sommer's study of the magical realism of Latin American fiction and Sneja Gunew's analysis of Australian writing, Nation and Narration is a celebration of the fact that English is no longer an English national consciousness which is not nationalist but is the only thing that will give us an international dimension.

Longman Anthology British Literature

Volume 2 Addison-Wesley Longman, Incorporated, 1998-07 Political Poetry as Discourse Angela M. Leonard, 2010-01-01

Political Poetry as Discourse examines the works of the political poets John Greenleaf Whittier and Ebenezer Elliott drawing comparisons to contemporary hip hoppers who take their words from local newspapers and other discursive sources that they read hear and observe Local presses and news vehicles stand as cultural material forms that supply poets with words particularly words that congeal into patterns of language allowing the creation of a poetic discourse As readers of these poets apply techniques and theories of discourse analysis they reveal how poets borrow lift hijack or resituate words from one or more different genres to use as tools of political change Leonard engages with the critical toolboxes of content analysis semiosis and deconstruction to demonstrate how to critically investigate and interrogate the images sounds and words not just of politically engaged poets but also of any disseminator of culture and news Moving beyond theory into praxis this book becomes a model of its own transgressive premise by thinking analyzing writing and teaching against the grain Its focus on language as unbounded discourse makes this book a relevant and insightful demonstration in democratic pedagogy and in teaching for transformation
