social service which many people are aware of but which few properly understand They also reveal the wider impacts that processes of marketisation and welfare reform have had on these frontline services over decades and how the work of frontline staff and service providers has been transformed Buying and Selling the Poor looks closely at how these services operate why some succeed where others fail and what can be learned from the stories of staff and clients who have navigated the system Three decades into this market experiment how well are we doing in supporting our most vulnerable citizens to get back to work This revealing often heart wrenching work will prove enlightening for not only those within the policy field but also anyone with an interest in or experience dealing with a system that often feels like a race to the bottom Kim

Marshall, 2002-11-01 Examining in the widest sense the changes in political philosophy that have occurred in Western capitalist states since the early 1980s this book focuses on the introduction of neo liberal principles in the combined area of social and education policy New Zealand presents a paradigm example of the neo liberal shift in political philosophy From constituting the social laboratory of the Western world in the 1930s in terms of social welfare provision New Zealand has become the neo liberal experiment of the fully marketised society in the 1990s Against the theoretical background of educational theory and practice this book examines neo liberalism and its critiques as responses to the so called crisis of the welfare state and argues for a reformulated critical social policy in the postmodern condition The conclusions about social policy drawn by the authors can be generalized to similar situations in other Western capitalist countries
