Education and National Defense Series United States. Office of Education,1941 Education and National Defense Series ,1942 World Regional and Cultural Footprints and Environmental Sustainability Ebenezer O. Aka,2017-04-26 The book examines the issues of sustainability in general It addresses various socioeconomic determinants of ecological footprints in different world's nations, regions and cultures. Major socioeconomic determinants of ecological footprints are fleshed out using Comparative Model Analysis and rigorous Multiple Regression Analysis. The study exposes the inequitable distribution of the world's ecological footprints and also heightens the concern about ecological imbalances and overshoots. It explains how sustainable development can be promoted and achieved in regional, national and local jurisdictions. The study provides information that will likely help various governments and policy makers determine if a given nation, region or culture is on a sustainable path. It helps government leaders, planners, policy makers and even students of sustainability make a difference in mitigating the effects of various environmental stressors. If this book makes people and policy makers in different countries, regions and cultures think globally but act locally, then the objectives are well served.

Understanding the Other American Republics Zoe Agnes Thralls, 1942 Growth Mechanisms and Sustainability

Jun Ma, Masashi Yamamoto, 2021-07-16 This book provides a broad investigation of various issues in East Asia's steel industry since the 1980s including international specialization and trade relations, the sustainable use of resources, technological innovations and environmental mitigation alongside a consideration of the rapid growth in Chinese steel industry. Using macro and firm level data and case studies based on field research to discuss issues concerning the steel industry in East Asia. In search of an easy understanding, we try to simplify complicated economic models and statistical analyses and concentrate on policy implications based as much as possible on the results of empirical analyses. We believe that this book will be of interest to policymakers, economists, practitioners and advocates of sustainability. How to Analyze Maps & Atlases, 2008 Bioprospecting of Indigenous Bioresources of North-East India Jubilee Purkayastha, 2016-08-16 This work is a comprehensive information on the indigenous bioresources of North Eastern India with the scope of bioprospecting for discovery and commercialization of new sources and products and long term ecological balance. The exploration, conservation and sustainable utilization of bioresources of world's Megabiodiversity Hotspots are undeniable. North Eastern India is a recognised biodiversity hot spot where the evolutionary forces are at its optimum, making this region as centre of origin for many species. Although little bit exploratory studies have been conducted in this part of the globe but a scientific exploitation of the bioresources is almost lacking. Unscientific exploitation and overexploitation without proper knowledge of the bioresources may lead to imbalanced ecosystem of this mega diversity region. At the same time, very less exploration and exploitation will hamper biodiversity based development. Today, unscientific dramatic changes are underway in this region. Human activities are changing, degrading and destroying the bioresources in an unplanned manner. Scientific bioprospecting of the bioresources will boost the economy while ensuring conservation. This book offers comprehensive information about various levels of bioprospecting of the gene pool of this Indo-Burma Mega Biodiversity Hot Spot, the North East India, which is endowed with huge biodiversity potential for exploration and exploitation for the benefit of humankind. Also, this book highlights the less and merely explored part of the indigenous biodiversity of North East India with explanation towards their better sustainable exploitation for benefit of the people economy and environment The novelty of the book lies in expert coverage of the bioresources of this mega diverse region including plants microbes insects etc with provisions for their sustainable scientific utilization This book portrays North East India as a melting pot of bioresources which are little explored and also those resources which are still to be explored The book mainly highlights the bioprospecting approaches for North East Indian bioresources and thus it make itself a unique one in filling the knowledge gap that is there regarding the bioprospecting of the biodiversity of this special region on the earth The book concludes by the ecotourism potential of this region The target audiences for this book include biodiversity economists who are working on technology and bioresource management issues and especially on biotechnology and biodiversity development economists addressing the issues of bioresources in developing countries These people may be in academia in government in non governmental organizations and in private companies The other target audiences group is policy scholars in government public sectors who are interested in issues of biotechnology IPRs and biodiversity In addition scholars experts in both development studies and resource management studies form another group of target audiences Also the book will be useful for the interaction between developed and developing nations regarding the issues of biodiversity and bioprospecting as North Eastern India is the hub of Biodiversity
