Social Psychology Of Experience Studies In Remembering And Forgetting:

The Social Psychology of Experience David Middleton, Dr. Steven D. Brown, 2005-05-20 As their argument unfolds the authors reveal that memories do not solely reside in a linear passage of time linking past present and future nor do they solely rest within the individual's consciousness but that memory sits at the very heart of lived experience whether collective or individual the vehicle for how we remember or forget is linked to social interaction object interaction and the different durations of living that we all have It is very much connected to the social psychology of experience The Social Psychology of Experience David Middleton, Steve D Brown, 2005-04-13 A smart thoughtful and well written book that takes social memory studies in a bold new direction and will attract an audience from across the social sciences for years to come Theory whether collective or individual the vehicle for how we remember or forget is linked to social interaction object interaction and the different durations of living that we all have It is very much connected to the social psychology of experience This book is written for advanced undergraduate masters and doctoral students in social psychology However it will also be of particular value on courses that deal with conceptual and historical issues in psychology in cognate disciplines as well and supplementary reading in cognitive science Handbook of Culture and Memory Brady Wagoner, 2018 In the

Handbook of Culture and Memory Brady Wagoner and his team of international contributors explore how memory is deeply entwined with social relationships stories in film and literature group history ritual practices material artifacts and a host of other cultural devices Culture is seen as the medium through which people live and make meaning of their lives In this book analyses focus on the mutual constitution of people's memories and the social cultural worlds to which they belong The complex relationship between culture and memory is explored in the concept of memory and its relation to evolution neurology and history life course changes in memory from its development in childhood to its decline in old age and the national and transnational organization of collective memory and identity through narratives propagated in political discourse the classroom and the media Activity Theory in Practice Harry Daniels, Anne Edwards, Yrjö Engeström, Tony

Gallagher, Sten R. Ludvigsen, 2013-05-13 This ground breaking book brings together cutting edge researchers who study the transformation of practice through the enhancement and transformation of expertise This is an important moment for such a contribution because expertise is in transition moving toward collaboration in inter organizational fields and continuous shaping of transformations To understand and master this transition powerful new conceptual tools are needed and are provided here The theoretical framework which has shaped these studies is Cultural Historical Activity Theory CHAT CHAT analyses how people and organisations learn to do something new and how both individuals and organisations change The theoretical and methodological tools used have their origins in the work of Lev Vygotsky and A N Leont'ev In recent years this body of work has aroused significant interest across the social sciences management and communication studies Working as part of an integrated international team the authors identify specific findings which are of direct interest to the academic community such as the analysis of vertical learning between operational and strategic levels within complex organizations the refinement of notions of identity and subject position within CHAT the introduction of the concept of labour power into CHAT the development of a method of analysing discourse which theoretically coheres with CHAT and the design of projects Activity Theory in Practice will be highly useful to practitioners researchers students and policy makers who are interested in conceptual and empirical issues in all aspects of activity based research Memory Matters Janice Haaken, Paula Reavey, 2009-09-10 In this volume the editors make use of current memory scholarship to explore ethical moral and cultural issues that continue to shape the ways in which memory is conceived in a range of scientific therapeutic and legal settings Transitional Justice and Human Rights in Morocco Fadoua Loudiy, 2014-03-05 This book examines the Moroccan experience of transitional justice more specifically the negotiation of the legacy of the period commonly referred to as the Years of Lead This period of Moroccan history roughly spans from the early 1960s to 1999 during which thousands of citizens were arbitrarily detained tortured and killed because of their political opinions Through an analysis of testimonies public documents and personal interviews Transitional Justice and Human Rights in Morocco seeks to shed light on Moroccan citizens struggle for recognition and reparation in the aftermath of a long history of grave human rights violations ranging from arbitrary arrest and torture to state sponsored disappearances and murders While Morocco s experience is often presented within a historical global context this book offers a comparative analysis discussing other national examples to situate the Moroccan experience within the relatively recent history of political transitions Seeking to advance a rhetoric of symbolic justice that privileges the voice of the victims and offers hope for the renewal of a community s ethos through public discourse and ethico political practices this book will be an invaluable resource for students and scholars with an interest in Human Rights and Middle East Politics The Cambridge Handbook of Situated Cognition Philip Robbins, Murat Aydede, 2009 This book is a guide to a movement in cognitive science showing how environmental and bodily structure shapes cognition Representing Communism After the Fall Cristian Tileagă, 2018-10-22 This book explores the contribution of discursive psychology and discourse analysis to researching the relationship between history and collective memory Analysing significant manifestations of the moral vocabulary of the Romanian transition from communism to democracy the author demonstrates how discursive psychology can be used to understand some of the enduring and persistent dilemmas around the legacy of communism This book argues that an understanding of language as an action oriented world building resource can fill an important gap in the theorizing of public controversies over individual and collective meaning of the recent communist past The author posits that discursive social psychology can serve as an intellectual and empirical bridge that can overcome several of the difficulties faced by researchers working in transitional justice studies and cognate fields This reflective book will appeal to students and scholars of transitional justice discursive psychology memory studies and the sociology of change Digital Memory Studies Andrew Hoskins, 2017-09-27 Digital media networks and archives reimagine and revitalize individual social and cultural memory but they also ensnare it bringing it under new forms of control Understanding these paradoxical conditions of remembering and forgetting through today's technologies needs bold interdisciplinary interventions Digital Memory Studies seizes this challenge and pioneers an agenda that interrogates concepts theories and histories of media and memory studies to map a holistic vision for the study of the digital remaking of memory Through the lenses of connectivity archaeology economy and archive contributors illuminate the uses and abuses of the digital past via an array of media and topics including television videogames and social media and memory institutions network politics and the digital afterlife

Vital Memory and Affect Steven Brown, Paula

Reavey, 2015-06-12 Vital Memory and Affect takes as its subject the autobiographical memories of vulnerable groups including survivors of child sexual abuse adopted children and their families forensic mental health service users and elderly persons in care home settings In particular the focus is on a particular class of memory within this group recollected episodes that are difficult and painful sometimes contested but always with enormous significance for a current and past sense of self These vital memories integral and irreversible can come to appear as a defining feature of a person's life In Vital Memory and Affect authors Steve Brown and Paula Reavey explore the highly productive way in which individuals make sense of a difficult past situated as they are within a highly specific cultural and social landscape Via an exploration of their vital memories the book combines insights from social and cognitive psychology to open up the possibility of a new approach to memory one that pays full attention to the contextual conditions of all acts of remembering This path breaking study brings together a unique set of empirical material and maps out an agenda for research into memory and affect that will be important reading for students and scholars of social psychology memory studies cultural studies philosophy and other related fields

Learning Teaching from Experience Viv Ellis, Janet Orchard, 2014-01-16

What do teachers learn on the job And how if at all do they learn from experience Leading researchers from the UK Europe the USA and Canada offer international research based perspectives on a central problem in policy making and professional practice the role that experience plays in learning to teach in schools Experience is often weakly conceptualized in both policy and research sometimes simply used as a proxy for time in weeks and years spent in a school classroom The conceptualization of experience in a range of educational research traditions lies at the heart of this book exemplified in a variety of empirical and theoretical studies Distinctive perspectives to inform these studies include sociocultural psychology the philosophy of education school effectiveness the sociology of education critical pedagogy activism and action research However no one theoretical perspective can claim privileged insight into what and how teachers learn from experience rather this is a matter for a truly educational investigation one that is both close to practice and seeks to develop theory At a time when policy makers in many countries seek to make teacher education an entirely school based activity Learning Teaching from Experience offers an essential examination of the evidence base the traditions of inquiry and the limits of those inquiries

Mind, Language and Action Danièle Moyal-Sharrock, Volker Munz, Annalisa Coliva, 2015-03-10 The volume takes on the much needed task of describing and explaining the nature of the relations and interactions between mind language and action in defining mentality Papers by renowned philosophers unravel what is increasingly acknowledged to be the enacted nature of the mind memory and language acquisition whilst also calling attention to Wittgenstein's contribution The volume offers unprecedented insight clarity scope and currency

Cognition, Assessment and Debriefing in Aviation Wolff-Michael Roth, 2017-07-20 Debriefing is a major component of the job in many high risk industries where errors can have considerable often deadly consequences including combat surgery and aviation Although there exists considerable literature on debriefing recent reviews of the literature suggest a shortcomings in the topics researched b paucity of related theory c limitations in the number of empirical studies and d problems in research design There are also recent suggestions that there are surprisingly studies in the scholarly literature that show how to debrief how to teach or learn to debrief what methods of debriefing exists and how effective they are at achieving learning objectives and goals Meta analyses reveal substantial variations in research findings e g on the use of video as a means of debriefing that can be traced to the problems This book redresses these problems in that it provides a detailed look at debriefing and assessment the functions of different cognitive artifacts used and a theoretical framework that accounts for the complexity of flying an aircraft and for the debriefing of the pilots experiences especially under the high stakes condition of their bi annual evaluation for licensing purposes The book provides detailed investigation of flight examiners methods to arrive at assessments of aviation pilot performance It shows and theoretically models why there are good reasons for lower than desired inter rater agreements It offers detailed scenarios of how debriefing can be made to draw maximum benefit for pilot learning that is for the take home messages that will make them better pilots The theoretical framework includes objective factors that determine performance and the subjective experience pilots have while undergoing training and testing in flight simulators

Memory in the Wild Brady Wagoner, Ignacio Brescó de Luna, Sophie Zadeh, 2020-07-01 Venturing out of the laboratory into the wild of natural settings it becomes untenable to locate memory strictly in the head Instead memory appears as a materially extended and socially distributed process embedded within culture and history This book explores the complex relations between practices of remembering and the settings in which they are enacted It advances a novel set of concepts developed from ecological cognitive cultural and narrative currents in psychology and further afield to analyze 1 trajectories of autobiographical remembering 2 the relation between individual and collective memory 3 memory and cultural transmission as well as 4 various methodological techniques to investigate memory in the wild

Memory Practices and Learning Åsa Mäkitalo, Per Linell, Roger Säljö, 2017-01-01 Memory and learning are seen as mental phenomena and generally studied as brain processes for example within various branches of psychology and neuroscience This book represents a rather different tack based on sociocultural theory cultural psychology and dialogism Authors from many different disciplines and countries

study memory and learning as practices adopted by people in different interactional and institutional contexts Studies range from detailed analyses of situated activities to broad sociohistorical studies of cultural phenomena and collective memories such as national narratives and physical symbols for commemorating events and traditions By focusing on how people engage in remembering and learning this book provides a necessary complement to currently popular neuroscientific approaches

What Matters for Healthy Ageing Julie Byles, 2025-02-18 This book describes What Matters for Healthy Ageing largely from the point of view of the individual considering not only the length of their life but also the quality of their life their roles and identity and the things that make life worth living The book embraces the World Health Organisation's framework for healthy ageing being the ability to continue to do the things that matter most Many factors impact on these abilities including social determinants of health intrinsic capacities personal identity and roles such as work and caregiving This book will help Geriatricians develop practice models to guide the care of older adults by focusing on those things that matter to the older person themselves

The Labour of Memory M. Allen, 2014-12-02 This book presents a study of remembrance practices emerging after the 2005 London bombings Matthew Allen explores a range of cases that not only illustrate the effects of the organisation of remembrance on its participants but reveal how people engaged in memorial culture to address difficult and unbearable conditions in the wake of 7 7

Nothingness Jytte Bang, 2017-07-05 This book addresses nothingness as not only the intangible presence of an emotional cultural social or even political void that is felt on an existential level but has some solid foundations in reality The death of a loved one the social isolation of an individual or the culture shock one may experience in another country are examples of situations in which an external sense of absence mirrors an internal psychological and philosophical sense of nothingness Not much has been explicitly written on nothingness in the history of psychology On the other hand nothingness seems to be implicitly embedded in many scholars' work This duality of explicitly and implicitly expressed ideas about nothingness reveals how psychology finds inspiration in philosophy and vice versa The book aims to illustrate how the concept of the presence of absence nothingness fills a void in contemporary psychological theorizing

Queer Memory and Storytelling Rob Cover, Rosslyn Prosser, 2024-02-27 Queer Memory and Storytelling unpacks the ways in which the narrative practices of recounting past experiences play a formative role in formation of identities cultures and social change among gender and sexually diverse individuals Grounded in theoretical research this work delves into historical accounts case studies and draws from the rich tapestry of interviews conducted during extensive LGBTQ research studies It explores the power of memorial storytelling to shape the narratives surrounding gender and sexual diversity offering profound insights into the role storytelling plays as a deeply subjective personal communal and cultural form of expression The book introduces a queer perspective that reframes the study of narrative psychology community history philosophies of subjectivity and the socio cultural heritage of LGBTQ minority communities It also focuses on the pivotal role played by memory and reflection found within online coming up stories and contemporary modes of shared community memorialization By employing queer theory ethnographic research interviews and meticulous media textual analysis the book presents new frameworks for comprehending the myriad facets of identity and investigating what it means to remember and narrate selfhood in the context of social life actively queering the concept of memory Queer Memory and Storytelling will appeal to academics researchers and students in psychology sociology gender and sexuality studies and communication

Outsourcing the European Past Thomas Van de Putte, 2024-02-28 This book investigates the entanglement of memory and morality in an extended case study of the memory policy of the European Commission between 2014 and 2020 The main empirical aim is to provide an understanding of how the European Commission various non governmental intermediary institutions including the Memory Studies Association and Euroclio and in the end participants in policy projects attribute meaning to the past and connect that past with specific norms and values The book queries how the European Commission turns more general cultural memories into concrete moral discourses in its memory policy how these policies are institutionally operationalised what draws these institutions to the European Commission s memory policy and what happens when individual citizens are exposed to the outcomes of those policy projects Theoretically Outsourcing the European Past integrates theories from cultural sociology political science cultural studies and sociolinguistics in an innovative theory of memory
