Social Work with Children Juliet Berry, 2025-09-01 First published in 1972 Social Work with Children presents a detailed examination of children and their needs in our society The author moves from an initial discussion of the pleasures and pressures inherent in parenthood towards considering how children may be helped in their social development She distinguishes between situations in which children may benefit from direct casework help and those in which aid may be more appropriately offered by parents or caretakers and shows how such treatment can be carried out She deals with special circumstances in relation to adoption fostering residential care neglect and ill treatment and considers the position of the handicapped immigrant or delinquent child In a final chapter she discusses methods of social work other than casework including group work community work and social action Juliet Berry makes frequent use of case illustrations and throughout the book she provides an extensive guide to further reading

Social Work and Integration in Immigrant Communities Kathleen Valtonen, 2016-03-03 There has been a marked rise in global migration with many former countries of emigration becoming immigration destinations As a result of this social workers increasingly encounter immigrant clients and are called upon to work in their communities At the same time in the field of research theories conceptual frames perspectives and discourse have materialized and evolved to make sense of contemporary events Social work professionals researchers and students must therefore need to be apprised of current thinking research and discourse in the field of integration Valtonen familiarizes the reader with the variation in national policies institutional arrangements and service responses which all provide rich contrasts and insights into a breadth of policy possibilities Since macro level developments in migration carry direct implications for social work as a discipline and a profession with a central stake and role in immigrant wellbeing this book provides salient information to help with visioning in the profession defining appropriate and concerted responses and building robust standing in the field as well as promoting the linking of disciplinary and multidisciplinary research with practice
