The Aesthetics of Self-Harm Zoe Alderton,2018-05-11 The Aesthetics of Self Harm presents a new approach to understanding parasuicidal behaviour based upon an examination of online communities that promote performances of self harm in the pursuit of an idealised beauty The book considers how online communities provide a significant level of support for self harmers and focuses on relevant case studies to establish a new model for the comprehension of the online supportive community To do so Alderton explores discussions of self harm and disordered eating on social networks She examines aesthetic trends that contextualise harmful behavior and help people to perform feelings of sadness and vulnerability online Alderton argues that the traditional understanding of self violence through medical discourse is important but that it misses vital elements of human group activity and the motivating forces of visual imagery Covering psychiatry and psychology rhetoric and sociology this book provides essential reading for psychologists sociologists and anthropologists exploring group dynamics and ritual and rhetoricians who are concerned with the communicative powers of images It should also be of great interest to medical professionals dealing with self harming patients

Rife Nikesh Shukla,2019-07-11 Young people in this country are facing a chasm of doubt and instability Mental health problems are widespread university fees are rising job opportunities are drying up and the prospect of ever owning a home is increasingly out of reach But this generation is noticeably absent from the opinion columns comment pieces and news reports of the mainstream media From the creative minds behind Rife magazine comes this anthology of twenty passionate voices all under the age of twenty four writing across a spectrum of topics that matter to them It holds a mirror up to the experience of young people in the UK today with essays on money mental health sex gender inequality education crime and the future Bracing honest and set against what can often seem an apocalyptic backdrop these stories are nevertheless full of ideas and solidarity to draw on through these uncertain times

The Suicidal Person Konrad Michel,2023-09-12 Konrad Michel a leading psychiatrist and acclaimed expert draws on decades of experience to offer necessary new ways of understanding and preventing suicide After one of his first patients died by suicide Michel devoted himself to researching self harm Writing vividly and personally he recounts more than forty years of working with and learning from suicidal patients Michel shows that suicide is not just a consequence of mental illness but an action related to a person s life story Drawing on hundreds of interviews with suicidal patients he argues that suicide and suicide attempts occur when someone experiences extreme emotional pain that severely impairs the ability to think and act rationally Based on this understanding Michel and his colleagues developed a person centered approach to treatment that overcomes the limitations of the traditional medical model Through a brief therapy patients find a personally meaningful narrative understanding of their suicidal thoughts and impulses People at risk can learn to recognize their vulnerabilities in order to manage potentially life threatening situations and keep themselves safe Michel emphasizes the importance of communication medical professionals need to connect with patients as individuals to identify specific warning signs Both compassionate and rigorous this book provides vital insight into suicide prevention and shows how changing attitudes will help save lives It includes practical advice for people at risk with special emphasis on young people as well as for relatives and health professionals
