Her Majesty's Chief Inspector of Prisons for England and Wales, 1984 The Prevention of Suicide in Prison Daniel Pratt, 2015-08-27 Suicide is considered to be the leading cause of preventable death in prisons While there is increasingly expansive literature examining the various risk factors associated with a likelihood of eventual prison suicide so far this has struggled to lead to successful prevention programmes An alternative approach is needed that seeks to understand at the individual level what leads a prisoner to contemplate ending their own life This book describes how the authors developed and delivered evidence based psychological interventions for suicide prevention in prison The authors present a compelling argument for a psychological approach to the prevention of prison suicide drawing upon a cognitive behavioural perspective with chapters investigating two novel psychological therapies Cognitive Behavioural Suicide Prevention and Problem Solving Training The methodology behind each study is presented alongside preliminary findings emerging from the evaluations and detailed case studies are included as exemplars of the process and content of the therapies as well as the individual and contextual challenges to be overcome The book provides timely research into the development of a better understanding of why prisoners engage in suicide behaviour and the preventive interventions showing the most promise for future investigation The Prevention of Suicide in Prison will be critical reading for clinical and forensic psychologists psychological therapists psychiatrists and other mental health staff working within a prison context as well as postgraduates in training and researchers studying suicide in forensic settings Dying Inside Samantha Sherratt, 1993 Adolescent Forensic Psychiatry Susan Bailey, Mairead Dolan, 2004-06-25 Adolescent Forensic Psychiatry discusses a broad range of issues based around the psychiatric needs of adolescents and how these relate to offending behaviour Its well structured approach looks at assessment treatment and outcomes for different disorders and highlights the importance of effective interaction between specialist agencies Services Suicide in Prisons Graham Towl, David Crighton, 2017-05-03 The definitive guide from two leading authors central to developments in the field An invaluable book which covers everything from theoretical and community research to precisely what is known about prisoners and the risk of their completing suicide Covers the Harris Review and Government Response to it as well as the stance of politicians reform groups and other leading experts on what in 2017 is an escalating problem for UK prisons Contains analysis and data from over 30 years bringing together key knowledge and information at a critical time of concern and attention The Health of Prisoners Richard Creese, J. Bearn, 1995 In eighteenth century Britain gaols were places of temporary confinement where inmates stayed while awaiting punishment With the rise of the penitentiary from the early nineteenth century custodial institutions housed prisoners for much longer periods of time Prisoners were supposed to be reformed as well as punished during their incarceration From at least the time of John Howard 1726 1790 the health of prisoners has been part of the concern of philanthropists and others concerned with the wider functions of prisons The Victorians established a Prison Medical Service and members of the medical profession have long been involved in caring for the mental and physical needs of prisoners For two centuries prison overcrowding has been identified as a major cause of mortality and morbidity in prisons Historical debates thus often have a modern ring to them which make the essays in this volume particularly timely

Suicide and the Law Elizabeth Wicks,2023-02-23 This book investigates the law s approach to suicide in England and Wales It explores the seismic shift in perceptions of the law s role in respect of suicide from imprisonment as a punishment for attempting suicide to courts hearing arguments about whether there is not only a right to suicide but also a right to assistance in suicide This development stands alongside a global recognition of suicide prevention as a public health priority In this book the dual priorities of respect for autonomy and the protection of human life are recognised as equally important and the legal issues surrounding suicide in a range of different contemporary contexts including suicide in prison and juvenile suicide are considered The book also investigates what the relationship between mental health and suicide means for its legal regulation and evaluates the enduring legal offence of assisted suicide particularly in the context of the terminally ill It is argued that a more refined approach to the topic of voluntary death should be recognised in the law one that distinguishes more clearly between autonomous decision making about the end of life and incapacitated self caused risks to life that require effective preventative interventions
