Stooks on the Horizon Jan Kuzina,2024-12-11 This is a story of land a farm that was not just the giver of life's sustenance but a character in its own right with its own spirit and vitality found in its black earth pastures woods and sloughs as it moves through seasons When faded creased papers from the early 1900s were stumbled upon in an old E B Eddy matchbox in her maternal grandfather's farmhouse Jan Kuzina began a quest to learn more about her family's history As she researched an incredible story emerged one of faith hope perseverance and resilience of the human spirit This is the saga of three generations beginning with Ukrainian immigrants Ilko and Paraska Huziak who came to the Canadian West in 1900 as land grant recipients and their way of life on their homestead Through two World Wars the Depression weather disasters financial crises and the advent of modern machinery these determined homesteaders kept the farm viable united in their love for the land and each other

Stooks on the Horizon The Story of a Prairie Family Homestead gives readers an authentic glimpse into nineteenth century rural life on the Prairies including the struggles that these early settlers endured as they made Canada their home and the legacy that they left behind

Educational Necropolitics Boni Wozolek,2023-04-07 Scholars across fields of education have longstanding histories of critically considering the many ways that inequities in schooling are engendered and maintained and just as significantly how these forms of oppression might be resisted and refused Drawing from these important dialogues Educational Necropolitics shares two years of stories sounds and powerful images collected through a sonic ethnographic study What emerges from this work are the reverberations of how students in this context and more broadly how youth across the country often negotiate the intersections of race genders sexual orientations class and other parts of their complex identities in overwhelmingly white high school settings This book examines what is produced in the wake of educational necropolitics the capacity for schools to dictate to what degree minoritized students ways of being can remain intact and significantly it follows the daily lives of youth as they encounter forms of violence through what schools intend to teach what is left out what is learned through everyday interactions and what is valued through the broader emergent cultural contexts This groundbreaking work includes interactive e features that invite readers to travel and interact with participants of the study which utilizes deep listening in qualitative research and reflects the results of this sonic ethnography A truly timely text for educators and administrators Educational Necropolitics provides an immersive experience in which leaders can address and correct systemic racist practices in the school setting by drawing directly from first hand student experiences
