Woman s World The Novel After Theory Judith Ryan,2014-01-01 Novels began to incorporate literary theory in unexpected ways in the late twentieth century Through allusion parody or implicit critique theory formed an additional strand in fiction that raised questions about the nature of authorship and the practice of writing Studying this phenomenon provides fresh insight into the recent development of the novel and the persistence of modern theory beyond the period of its greatest success In this book Judith Ryan opens these questions to a range of readers drawing them into debates over the value of theory Ryan investigates what prompted fiction writers to incorporate and respond to theory nearly thirty years ago Designed for readers unfamiliar with the complexities of theory Ryan s book introduces the discipline s major trends and controversies and notes the salient ideas of a carefully selected set of individual thinkers Ryan follows novelists adaptation to and engagement with arguments drawn from theory as they translate abstract ideas into language structure and fictional strategy At the core of her book is a fascinating microstudy of French poststructuralism in its dialogue with narrative fiction Investigating theories of textuality psychology and society in the work of Don DeLillo Thomas Pynchon J M Coetzee Margaret Atwood W G Sebald and Umberto Eco as well as Monika Maron Alain Robbe Grillet Marguerite Duras Marilynne Robinson David Foster Wallace and Christa Wolf Ryan identifies subtle negotiations between author and theory and the richness this dynamic adds to texts Resetting the way we think and learn about literature her book reads current literary theory while uniquely tracing its shaping of a genre Summertime J. M. Coetzee,2009 A young English biographer is working on a book about the late writer John Coetzee He plans to focus on the years from 1972 1977 when Coetzee in his thirties is sharing a run down cottage in the suburbs of Cape Town with his widowed father This the biographer senses is the period when he was finding his feet as a writer Never having met Coetzee he embarks on a series of interviews with people who were important to him Summertime Liz Rigbey,2004-09-07 Lucy Schaffer s sane safe life in New York an existence she has built to escape a painful past suddenly falls apart when she learns of the passing of her beloved father Authorities in northern California say he could have been murdered his body dumped into the sea With this rude homecoming she must dive into the deep waters of her past to make any sense of this tragedy Trauma, Memory, and Narrative in the Contemporary South African Novel ,2012-01-01 The contributions to this volume probe the complex relationship of trauma memory and narrative By looking at the South African situation through the lens of trauma they make clear how the psychic deformations and injuries left behind by racism and colonialism cannot be mended by material reparation or by simply reversing economic and political power structures Western trauma theories as developed by scholars such as Caruth van der Kolk Herman and others are insufficient for analysing the more complex situation in a postcolony such as South Africa This is because Western trauma concepts focus on the individual traumatized by a single identifiable event that causes PTSD Post Traumatic Stress Disorder What we need is an understanding of trauma that sees it not only as a result of an identifiable event but also as the consequence of an historical condition in the case of South Africa that of colonialism and more specifically of apartheid For most black and coloured South Africans the structural violence of apartheid's laws were the existential condition under which they had to exist The living conditions in the townships pass laws relocation and racial segregation affected great parts of the South African population and were responsible for the collective traumatization of several generations This trauma however is not an unclaimed and unclaimable experience Postcolonial thinkers who have been reflecting on the experience of violence and trauma in a colonial context writing from within a Fanonian tradition have on the contrary believed in the importance of reclaiming the past and of transcending mechanisms of victimization and resentment so typical of traumatized consciousnesses Narration and the novel have a decisive role to play here J. M. Coetzee's Politics of Life and Late Modernism in the Contemporary Novel Marc Farrant, 2024-03-05 Surveying the full breadth of J M Coetzee's career as both academic and novelist this book argues for the necessity of rethinking his profound indebtedness to literary modernism in terms of a politics of life Isolating a particular strain of late modernism epitomised by Kafka and Beckett Farrant claims that Coetzee's writings consistently demonstrate an agonistic engagement with the concept of life that involves an entanglement of politics and ethics which supersedes the singular theoretical frameworks often applied to Coetzee such as postcolonialism posthumanism and animal studies Running throughout his engagement with questions of modernity and colonialism storytelling and life writing human and non human life religion and post Enlightenment subjectivity Coetzee's politics of life yield a new literary cosmopolitanism for the twenty first century a powerful commentary on our interrelatedness that emphasises finitude and contingency as fundamental to the way we live together The Summertime Girls Laura Hankin, 2015-08-04 When two lifelong friends reunite for one more summer in small town Maine they must bridge the gap caused by the dreams and secrets that tore them apart Ally Morris and Beth Abbott were beyond inseparable From the very first time they met the girls knew they'd found a once in a lifetime friendship But sometimes life can't help but get in the way As time goes by disappointments and petty resentments begin to alter what they once thought was forever Ally's boho lifestyle leaves her drowning in confusion and cheap whisky while a terrible secret threatens to shatter Beth's carefully controlled world By the time they need each other most Ally and Beth are nearly strangers to each other When a family crisis prompts Beth to contact Ally for help out of the blue the girls reunite in Maine But the distance between them is overwhelming To save their friendship Ally and Beth will have to confront painful moments in their past and redefine who they are before their incredible connection fades away for good Born Translated Rebecca

L. Walkowitz, 2015-08-04 As a growing number of contemporary novelists write for publication in multiple languages the genre's form and aims are shifting Born translated novels include passages that appear to be written in different tongues narrators who speak to foreign audiences and other visual and formal techniques that treat translation as a medium rather than as an afterthought These strategies challenge the global dominance of English complicate native readership and protect creative works against misinterpretation as they circulate They have also given rise to a new form of writing that confounds traditional models of literary history and political community Born Translated builds a much needed framework for understanding translation's effect on fictional works as well as digital art avant garde magazines literary anthologies and visual media Artists and novelists discussed include J M Coetzee Junot Diaz Jonathan Safran Foer Mohsin Hamid Kazuo Ishiguro Jamaica Kincaid Ben Lerner China Miéville David Mitchell Walter Mosley Caryl Phillips Adam Thirlwell Amy Waldman and Young-hae Chang Heavy Industries The book understands that contemporary literature begins at once in many places engaging in a new type of social embeddedness and political solidarity It recasts literary history as a series of convergences and departures and by elevating the status of born translated works redefines common conceptions of author reader and nation

Modernist Crisis and the Pedagogy of Form

Progress J. M. Coetzee and the Ethics of Narrative Transgression Alexandra Effe, 2017-08-16 This book is about the metanarrative and metafictional elements of J M Coetzee's novels. It draws together authorship, readership, ethics, and formal analysis into one overarching argument about how narratives work the boundary between art and life. On the basis of Coetzee's writing, it reconsiders the concept of metalepsis, challenges common understandings of self-reflexive discourse, and invites us to rethink our practice as critics and readers. This study analyzes Coetzee's novels in three chapters organized thematically around the author's relation with character, reader, and self. Author and character are discussed on the basis of Foe, Slow Man, and Coetzee's Nobel lecture He and His Man. Stories featuring the character Elizabeth Costello or the figuration Elizabeth Curren serve to elaborate the relation of author and reader. The study ends on a reading of Summertime, Diary of a Bad Year, and Dusklands as Coetzee's engagement with autobiographical writing, analyzing the relation of author and self. It will appeal to readers with an interest in literary and narrative theory as much as to Coetzee scholars and advanced students.

The Return of the Storyteller in Contemporary Fiction Areti Dragas, 2014-08-31 Focusing on the figure of the storyteller, this study breaks new ground in the approach to reading contemporary literature by identifying a growing interest in storytelling. For the last thirty years, contemporary fiction has been influenced by theoretical discourses of textuality and writing. Only since the rise of postcolonialism have academic critics been more overtly interested in stories where high theory frameworks are less applicable. However, as we move through various contemporary contexts engaging with postcolonial identities and hybridity, to narratives of disability and evolutionary accounts of group and individual survival, a common feature of all is the centrality of story, which posits both the idea of survival and the passing on of traditions. The Return of the Storyteller in Contemporary Fiction closely examines this preoccupation with story and storytelling through a close reading of six contemporary international novelists that are either about actual storytellers or engage with the figure of the storyteller, revealing how death of the author has given birth to the storyteller.

Teachers and Teaching Post-COVID Katy Marsh-Davies, Cathy Burnett, 2023-11-23 Featuring a broad swathe of academic research and perspectives from international contributors, this book will capture and share important lessons from the pandemic experience for teaching practice and teacher learning more broadly. Looking at core teaching values such as the facilitation of learning, the promotion of fairness and equality, and community building, the book centres the records of teachers' experiences from diverse educational phases and locations that illuminate how the complexity of teaching work is entangled in the emotional, relational, and embodied nature of teachers' everyday lives. Through rich qualitative data and first-hand experience, the book informs the decisions of teachers and those who train, support, and manage them, promoting sustainable positive transformation within education for the benefit of educators and learners alike. This book will be of use to scholars, practitioners, and researchers involved with teachers and teacher education, the sociology of education, and teaching and learning more broadly. Policy makers working in school leadership, management, and administration may also benefit from the volume.
