Sun And Spoon:

Sun and Spoon Kevin Henkes, 2001 It's been only two months since Spoon Gilmore's grandmother died but already he's worried that he'll forget her. He needs to own something of Gran's something special. But Spoon's little sister Joanie won't give him time alone to think even when they go to their grandfather's house. What happens there will stay with readers long after they finish Sun Spoon. Kevin Henkes's innate understanding of childhood illuminates his work with a rare glow. Henkes offers another meticulously crafted quietly engaging epiphany. Infused with the same good humor, wisdom, and respect for children's hearts and minds that characterize all his works. Kirkus Reviews pointer review. Once again Henkes captures young angst with respect and honesty. Images of supportive parents and love between generations shine through. School Library Journal starred review.

The Tuscan Sun Cookbook Frances Mayes, Edward Mayes, 2012-03-13 Tuscan food tastes like itself. Ingredients are left to shine. So if on your visit I hand you an apron your work will be easy. We'll start with primo ingredients a little flurry of activity perhaps a glass of Vino Nobile di Montepulciano and soon we'll be carrying platters out the door. We'll have as much fun setting the table as we have in the kitchen. Four double doors along the front of the house open to the outside so handy for serving at a long table under the stars or for cooling a scorched pan on the stone wall. Italian Philosophy 101 la casa aperta the open house from the Introduction. In all of Frances Mayes's bestselling memoirs about Tuscany food plays a starring role. This cuisine transports, comforts, entices, and speaks to the friendly, genuine, and improvisational spirit of Tuscan life. Both cooking and eating in Tuscany are natural pleasures. In her first ever cookbook Frances and her husband Ed share recipes that they have enjoyed over the years as honorary Tuscans dishes prepared in a simple traditional kitchen using robust, honest ingredients. A toast to the experiences they've had over two decades at Bramasole their home in Cortona, Italy. This cookbook evokes days spent roaming the countryside for chestnuts, green almonds, blackberries, and porcini; dinner parties stretching into the wee hours and garden baskets tumbling over with bright red tomatoes. Lose yourself in the transporting photography of the food, the people, and the place as Frances's lyrical introductions and headnotes put you by her side in the kitchen and raising a glass at the table. From Antipasti starters to Dolci desserts this cookbook is organized like a traditional Italian dinner. The more than

Hell under the Rising Sun Kelly E. Crager, 2008-01-22 Late in 1940 the young men of the 2nd Battalion 131st Field Artillery Regiment stepped off the trucks at Camp Bowie in Brownwood Texas ready to complete the training they would need for active duty in World War II Many of them had grown up together in Jacksboro Texas and almost all of them were eager to face any challenge Just over a year later these carefree young Texans would be confronted by horrors they could never have imagined The battalion was en route to bolster the Allied defense of the Philippines when they received news of the Japanese bombing of Pearl Harbor Soon they found themselves ashore on Java with orders to assist the Dutch British and Australian defense of the island against imminent Japanese invasion When war came to Java in March 1942 the Japanese forces overwhelmed the numerically inferior Allied defenders in little more than a week For more than three years the Texans along with the sailors and marines who survived the sinking of the USS Houston were prisoners of the Imperial Japanese Army Beginning in late 1942 these prisoners of war were shipped to Burma to accelerate completion of the Burma Thailand railway These men labored alongside other Allied prisoners and Asian conscript laborers to build more than 260 miles of railroad for their Japanese taskmasters They suffered abscessed wounds near starvation daily beatings and debilitating disease and 89 of the original 534 Texans taken prisoner died in the infested malarial jungles The survivors received a hero's welcome from Gov Coke Stevenson who declared October 29 1945 as Lost Battalion Day when they finally returned to Texas Kelly E Crager consulted official documentary sources of the National Archives and the U S Army and mined the personal memoirs and oral history interviews of the Lost Battalion members He focuses on the treatment the men received in their captivity and surmises that a main factor in the battalion's comparatively high survival rate 84 percent of the 2nd Battalion was the comradeship of the Texans and their commitment to care for each other This narrative is grueling yet ultimately inspiring Hell under the Rising Sun will be a valuable addition to the collections of World War II historians and interested general readers alike
