Hargreaves,2003-01-01 We are living in a defining moment when the world in which teachers do their work is changing profoundly In his latest book Hargreaves proposes that we have a one time chance to reshape the future of teaching and schooling and that we should seize this historic opportunity Hargreaves sets out what it means to teach in the new knowledge society to prepare young people for a world of creativity and flexibility and to protect them against the threats of mounting insecurity He provides inspiring examples of schools that operate as creative and caring learning communities and shows how years of soulless standardization have seriously undermined similar attempts made by many non affluent schools Hargreaves takes us beyond the dead ends of standardization and divisiveness to a future in which all teaching can be a high skill creative life shaping mission because the knowledge society requires nothing less This major commentary on the state of today s teaching profession in a knowledge driven world is theoretically original and strategically powerful a practical inspiring and challenging guide to rethinking the work of teaching

Teaching Teachers for a Knowledge Society R.P.

Singh,2008 The book outlines the type of curriculum teachers must undergo to be able to fit into a new set up for countries like India that are gradually emerging from the stupor of colonialism and vying for a space in the sun There are no shortcuts to power particularly when its defining quality lies in the quality of education It could be defined in terms of its teachers Logically therefore we must focus on teacher preparation

Emerging Pedagogies in the Networked Knowledge Society: Practices Integrating Social Media and Globalization Limbu, Marohang, Gurung, Binod, 2013-11-30 Since the dawn of the digital era the transfer of knowledge has shifted from analog to digital local to global and individual to social Complex networked communities are a fundamental part of these new information based societies Emerging Pedagogies in the Networked Knowledge Society Practices Integrating Social Media and Globalization examines the production dissemination and consumption of knowledge within networked communities in the wider global context of pervasive Web 2.0 and social media services This book will offer insight for business stakeholders researchers scholars and administrators by highlighting the important concepts and ideas of information and knowledge based economies

Professional Learning in the Knowledge Society Karen Jensen, Leif Chr. Lahn, Monika Nerland, 2012-10-20 This book presents an entirely new approach to professional learning based on perspectives of the knowledge society and in particular an interpretation of Knorr Cetina's work on scientific epistemic cultures Starting with a conceptual chapter and followed by a suite of empirical studies from accountancy education nursing and software engineering the book elaborates how a knowledge production and circulation take distinct forms in those fields b how the knowledge objects of practice in those fields engross and engage professionals and in the process people and knowledge are transformed by this engagement By foregrounding an explicit concern for the role of knowledge in professional learning the book goes much farther than the current fashion for describing practice based learning It will therefore be of considerable interest to the research policy practitioner and student communities involved with professional education learning or interested in innovation and knowledge development in the professions

The Emergent Knowledge Society and the Future of Higher Education Deane E. Neubauer, 2011-12-13 The nature of higher education is by no means fixed it has evolved over time different models of higher education co exist alongside each other at present and worldwide there are demands for higher education to change to better help support economic growth and to better fit changing social and economic circumstances This book examines from an Asian perspective the debates about how higher education should change It considers questions of funding and of who will attend universities and the fundamental question of what universities are for especially as the three key functions of universities knowledge creation through research knowledge dissemination through teaching and service and knowledge conservation through libraries the disciplinary structuring of knowledge and in other ways are increasingly being carried out much more widely outside universities in the new knowledge society Throughout the book discusses the extent to which the countries of East Asia are developing new models of higher education thereby better preparing themselves for the new knowledge society rather than simply following old Western models
