The Teaching of Reading William Scott Gray, 1957 Presenting a vivid picture of the current world wide effort to promote literacy the author discusses the problems faced the procedures followed the ends sought Stressing the increasing interest in reading today throughout the world the author points out the recognized importance of world wide literacy and the increasing demands made on readers in all countries The conditions which make world literacy imperative and the role of reading in the lives of adults everywhere are reviewed An analysis of records of eye movements in reading reveals that the basic attitudes and skills involved in reading are similar the world over independent of differences in language and culture Review of the teaching of reading reveals that both meaning and word recognition should be emphasized from the beginning The author next lays out programs for teaching both children and adults to read Finally he discusses the lessons to be learned about the teaching of reading from this world wide study The Burton Lecture, 1959 The Improvement of Reading Constance Mary McCullough, Ruth May Strang, Arthur Edwin Traxler, 1961 A Bibliography on Writing and Written Language Konrad Ehlich, Florian Coulmas, Gabriele Graefen, 2011-06-01 The bibliography offers information on research about writing and written language over the past 50 years No comprehensive bibliography on this subject has been published since Sattler's 1935 handbook With a selection of some 27 500 titles it covers the most important literature in all scientific fields relating to writing Emphasis has been placed on the interdisciplinary organization of the bibliography creating many points of common interest for literacy experts educationalists psychologists sociologists linguists cultural anthropologists and historians The bibliography is organized in such a way as to provide the specialist as well as the researcher in neighboring disciplines with access to the relevant literature on writing in a given field While necessarily selective it also offers information on more specialized bibliographies In addition an overview of norms and standards concerning script and writing will prove very useful for non professional readers It is therefore also of interest to the generally interested public as a reference work for the humanities Library of Congress Catalog Library of Congress, 1955
