Suite Venitienne Please Follow Me:

The Jean Baudrillard Reader Steve Redhead, 2008 Jean Baudrillard 1929 2007 was a controversial social and cultural theorist known for his trenchant analyses of media and technological communication Belonging to the generation of French thinkers that included Gilles Deleuze Jean Fran ois Lyotard Michel Foucault and Jacques Lacan Baudrillard has at times been vilified by his detractors but the influence of his work on critical thought and pop culture is impossible to deny many might recognize his name from The Matrix movies which claimed to be based on the French theorist s ideas Steve Redhead takes a fresh look at Baudrillard in relation to the intellectual and political climates in which he wrote Baudrillard sought to produce a theory of modernity but the modern world of the 1950s was radically different from the reality of the early twenty first century Beginning with Baudrillard s initial publications in the 1960s and concluding with his writings on 9 11 and Abu Ghraib Redhead guides the reader through Baudrillard s difficult texts and unorthodox views on current issues He also proposes an original theory of Baudrillard s relation to postmodernism presenting the theorist s work as non postmodernist after Bruno Latour s concept of non modernity Each section of the Reader includes an extract from one of Baudrillard s writings prefaced by a short bibliographical introduction that places the piece in context and puts the debate surrounding the theorist into sharp perspective The conflict over Baudrillard s legacy stems largely from the fact that a comprehensive selection of his writings has yet to be translated and collected into one volume The Jean Baudrillard Reader provides an expansive and much needed portrait of the critic s resonant work Suite Venitienne (Please Follow Me) Sophie Calle, 1988

Paul Auster's Writing Machine Evija Trofimova, 2014-08-28 Paul Auster is one of the most acclaimed figures in American literature Known primarily as a novelist Auster s films and various collaborations are now gaining more recognition Evija Trofimova offers a radically different approach to the author s wider body of work unpacking the fascinating web of relationships between his texts and presenting Auster s canon as a rhizomatic facto fictional network produced by a set of writing tools Exploring Auster s literal and figurative use of these tools the typewriter the cigarette the doppelg nger figure the city Evija Trofimova discovers Auster s writing machine a device that works both as a means to write and as a construct that manifests the emblematic writer figure This is a book about assembling texts and textual networks the writing machines that produce them and the ways such machines invest them with meaning Embarking on a scholarly quest that takes her from between the lines of Auster s work to between the streets of his beloved New York and finally to the man himself Paul Auster s Writing Machine becomes not just a critical investigation but a critical collaboration raising important questions about the ultimate meaning of Auster s work and about the relationship between texts their authors their readers and their critics *Sophie Calle. Baudrillard's sophisticated theoretical analyses far surpass such simplistic caricatures. Bringing together Baudrillard's most accomplished and perceptive commentators, this book assesses his legacy for the twenty-first century. It includes two outstanding essays by Baudrillard, a remarkable previously unpublished work entitled 'The vanishing point of communication' and one of Baudrillard's final texts, 'On disappearance', a veritable tour de force that serves as a culmination of his theoretical trajectory and a provocation to a new generation of thinkers. Employing Baudrillard's key concepts such as simulation, disappearance, and symbolic exchange, and deploying his most radical strategies such as escalation, seduction, and fatality, the volume's contributors offer a series of thought-provoking analyses of everything from art to politics and from laughter to terror. It will be essential reading for anyone concerned with the fate of the world in the new millennium.

Seduction in Popular Culture, Psychology, and Philosophy Martins, Constantino, Damásio, Manuel, 2016-08-15 Seduction is a complicated concept that is a part of the general human experience. Despite the prevalence of seduction in our personal lives as well as within popular culture, the concept has not been widely discussed and researched as an academic field. Seduction in Popular Culture, Psychology, and Philosophy explores the concept of seduction and the many ways it can be understood, either as a social and individual practice, a psychological trait, or a schema for manipulation. Taking a cross-disciplinary approach, this publication features research-based chapters relevant to sociologists, media professionals, psychologists, philosophers, advertising professionals, researchers, and graduate-level students studying in related areas.

Strayed Homes Edwina Attlee, 2021-12-16 Poetic and political Strayed Homes invites architects, interior designers, and urbanists to think again about common concepts in architecture: private, public, and home. Whereas most writing about the public-private focusses on urban space, this book focusses on the domestic, exploring those overlooked everyday places where private and intimate activities take place in public. With four chapters set in four small liminal spaces: the launderette, the greasy spoon, the fire escape, and the sleeper train, the book is part architectural history, part cultural history. It follows a series of allusions and impressions to explore how films, adverts, books, and anecdotes shape experiences of everyday architecture. Making a case for the poetic interpretation of space, the book can be used as a sourcebook for architects, designers, and theorists alike, prompting the reader to rethink the emotional state of leaving home, intimacy in public, and lonely dreaming.

Baudrillard, Youth, and American Film Kip Kline, 2016-05-26 Baudrillard, Youth, and American Film examines the portrayal of youth in American cinema with Jean Baudrillard's radical social theory and philosophical system. Kline uses Baudrillard's corpus to analyze the troubling effects of the portrayal of youth in American teen films, namely its contribution to discursive violence against young people, which holds such a prominent place in many adult-controlled modern institutions like schools. This kind of violence has multiple iterations, including the inability to imagine youth as meaningful political actors, the insistence on taking teenagers to be morally impoverished, and the propensity for viewing young people as thoroughly heteronomous. While there are certainly pockets of exception, violent discourses often animate institutional disregard for youth. Kline promotes

Baudrillard's fatal theory as a way for critical educators philosophers sociologists and other concerned pedagogues to argue for an alteration in the way that youth is portrayed in American films and to discourage the negative discourse that have colonized conceptions and treatment of young people
