years 1900-1978      The Aliens Robert Silverberg, 1976      Supernatural Fiction Writers Richard Bleiler, 2003 The Scribner Writers Series has set the standard for literary reference for more than 25 years. In addition to addressing the lives and careers of important writers, the articles discuss the themes and styles of major works and place them in pertinent historical, social, and political concerns for today's readers. Novelists, playwrights, essayists, poets, short story writers, and more recently genre writers in science fiction and mystery are all expertly discussed in the more than 17 sets comprising this series. To see listings of writers for any volume in this section, go to the Scribner Writers Series section online at www.gale.com/scribners. J. K. Rowling, Peter Straub, Anne McCaffrey, these are among the many widely read authors in fantasy and horror genres covered in this addition to Scribner's 1985 two-volume set. Essays written by scholars yet accessible to the general reader and student treat both writers who have risen to prominence since the 1985 edition and those whose careers have continued since original coverage such as Stephen King, Ursula K. LeGuin, and Harlan Ellison. The index cumulates the index from the first two volumes.

Earth is the Strangest Planet Robert Silverberg, 1977 Ten stories of science fiction about the earth      Major 20th-century Writers, 1991      Senior High School Library Catalog Gary L. Bogart, Karen R. Carlson, 1977

The Writers Directory, 2013      Building New Worlds, 1946-1959 John Boston, Damien Broderick, 2013-02-13 Building New Worlds is a history of a pivotal decades-long episode in the birth and growth of today's science fiction. Enthralling and amusing, it's written with affection and wit. This is no dry, modishly theorized academic analysis. Nor is it a rah-rah celebration of the Good Old Days. Here is a candid and astute reader's response to a magazine that by today's standards was often comically bad but was also immensely important in its time and improved like the Little Engine or maybe Starship That Could. New Worlds is best remembered today as the fountainhead of the New Wave of audacious experimental SF in the second half of the 1960s under editor Michael Moorcock. But these first pioneering issues from 1946-59 were edited by the magazine's founder John Ted Carnell. 1912-72 Carnell was a pillar of the old-style UK SF establishment but gamely supportive of innovators, most famously of the brilliant J. G. Ballard, Brian W. Aldiss, and John Brunner, whose early work he nurtured. The story of how New Worlds got started, survived, and got better is essential to the history of the genres of the fantastic in the UK and indeed the world. And huge fun to read. Watch for the companion volumes New Worlds Before the New Wave and Strange Highways dealing with New World's companion magazine Science Fantasy.
