Teaching Music In The Primary School:

Teaching Music in the Primary School 2/e Joanna Glover, Stephen Ward, 1998-11-01 Music's place in the National Curriculum in England and Wales is now firmly established. This book is a guide to help all primary teachers and those with a co-ordinating role who support them develop music in their classrooms. It looks at children's learning in music in the context of current thinking on primary education and the developments of primary music since 1991. There are well researched chapters on promoting children's musical composition and the ways in which music can be related to the whole primary curriculum. With a wealth of straightforward practical ideas, a revised chapter on assessment and a new chapter on the role of the music co-ordinator, this new edition of Teaching Music in the Primary School will be indispensable reading for all primary teachers, primary music co-ordinators and those running music courses in teacher education at undergraduate, postgraduate or INSET levels. The editors are both at Bath Spa University College where Joanna Glover is a Senior Lecturer in Music Education and Stephen Ward is Head of Department of Primary Education in the Faculty of Education and Human Sciences.

Making Music in the Primary School Nick Beach, Julie Evans, Gary Spruce, 2010-12-16 Making Music in the Primary School is an essential guide for all student and practising primary school teachers, instrumental teachers and community musicians involved in music with children. It explores teaching and learning music with the whole class and provides a framework for successful musical experiences with large groups of children. Striking the perfect balance between theory and practice, this invaluable text includes case studies and exemplars, carefully designed activities to try out in the classroom as well as a range of tried and tested teaching strategies to help you support and develop children's musical experience in the classroom. Grounded within a practical, philosophical and theoretical framework, the book is structured around the four key principles that underpin effective music teaching and experience: Integration, how can we join up children's musical experiences; Creativity, how can we support children's musical exploration; Access and Inclusion, how can we provide a relevant experience for every child; Collaboration, how might we work together to achieve these aims. Written in a clear, accessible and engaging style, Making Music in the Primary School will give you all the confidence you need when working with whole classes whatever your musical or teaching background.
