English Pronunciation Models Katarzyna Dziubalska-Kolaczyk, Joanna Przedlacka, 2008 The choice of a pronunciation model for the 21st century learner has become a major issue of debate among applied linguists concerned with teaching English The standard pronunciation models Received Pronunciation and General American have recently been confronted with a new proposal of a Lingua Franca Core LFC or English as a Lingua Franca ELF put forward as a didactic priority in teaching English pronunciation to foreigners This volume which includes selected contributions from the Pozna Linguistic Meetings of 2003 and 2004 does not intend to present yet another model but sets out to place the teaching and learning of English pronunciation in the context of the 21st century As the needs of English users are clearly changing fast in the globalizing world the question is to what extent if at all models of pronunciation have been able to keep up with them and whether they in fact should do so Thus key issues in the integration of pronunciation into English as L2 curricula are explored

Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages David Nunan, 2015-02-11 David Nunan's dynamic learner centered teaching style has informed and inspired countless TESOL educators around the world In this fresh straightforward introduction to teaching English to speakers of other languages he presents teaching techniques and procedures along with the underlying theory and principles Complex theories and research studies are explained in a clear and comprehensible yet non trivial manner without trivializing them Practical examples of how to develop teaching materials and tasks from sound principles provide rich illustrations of theoretical constructs The content is presented through a lively variety of different textual genres including classroom vignettes showing language teaching in action question and answer sessions and opportunities to eavesdrop on small group discussions among teachers and teachers in preparation Readers get involved through engaging interactive pedagogical features and opportunities for reflection and personal application Each chapter follows the same format so that readers know what to expect as they work through the text Key terms are defined in a Glossary at the end of the book David Nunan s own reflections and commentaries throughout enrich the direct up close style of the text

Discourse Intonation in L2 Dorothy M. Chun, 2002 Intonation rhythm and general melody of language are among the first aspects of speech that infants attend to and produce themselves Yet these same features are among the last to be mastered by adult L2 learners Why is this and how can L2 learners be helped This book first presents the latest linguistic theories of intonation in particular how intonation functions in discourse not only to signal sentence types and attitudinal meanings but also to provide turn taking and other conversational cues The second part of the book examines the research in applied linguistics on the acquisition of L2 phonology and intonation The third section offers practical applications of how to incorporate the teaching of intonation into L2 instruction with a focus on using new speech technologies The accompanying CD ROM makes a unique addition in allowing for simultaneous audio playback and visual display of the pitch contours of utterances contained in the book Users can start or stop the playback at any point in the utterance and can observe first hand how such visual and audio representations could be useful for L2 learners

Handbook of Research in Second Language Teaching and Learning Eli Hinkel, 2016-11-18 Volume III of the Handbook of Research in Second Language Teaching and Learning like Volumes I and II is a comprehensive state of the art overview of current research into social contexts of second language L2 foreign language FL teaching and learning language policy curriculum types of instruction incremental language skills such as listening speaking reading writing vocabulary and grammar international communication pragmatics assessment and testing It differs from earlier volumes in its main purpose to provide a more in depth discussion and detailed focus on the development of the essential language skills required for any type of communication speaking listening reading vocabulary grammar and writing Volume III preserves continuity with previous volumes in its coverage of all the classical areas of research in L2 FL teaching and learning and applied linguistics but rather than offering a historical review of disciplinary traditions it explores innovations and new directions of research acknowledges the enormous complexity of teaching and learning the essential language abilities and offers a diversity of perspectives Chapter authors are all leading authorities in their disciplinary areas What s new in Volume III Updates the prominent areas of research including the sub disciplines addressed in Volumes I and II and represents the disciplinary mainstays Considers and discusses perspectives held by different schools of thought on the what the how and the why of teaching foundational language skills including theories pedagogical principles and their implementation in practice Captures new and ongoing developments and trends in the key areas of L2 FL teaching and learning and innovative research topics that have gained substantial recognition in current publications including the role of corpora technology and digital literacy in L2 FL teaching and learning Examines new trends in language pedagogy and research such as an increased societal emphasis on teaching academic language for schooling somewhat contradictory definitions of literacy and the growing needs for instruction in intercultural communication Pronunciation for English as an International Language Ee-Ling Low, 2014-09-15
