Life-Cycle Costing Manual for the Federal Energy Management Program , Publications of the National Institute of Standards and Technology 1988 Catalog Rebecca J. Pardee,National Institute of Standards and Technology (U.S.),1989 Building Economics: Theory and Practice Rosalie Ruegg,Harold Marshall,2013-11-11 We no longer build buildings like we used to nor do we pay for them in the same way Buildings today are no longer only shelter but are also life support systems communication terminals data manufacturing centers and much more Buildings are incredibly expensive tools that must be constantly adjusted to function efficiently The economics of building has become as complex as its design When buildings were shelter they lasted longer than their builders The average gothic master mason lived 35 or 40 years Cathedrals took 3 or 4 hundred years to build Cost estimates were verified by great great grandchildren of the original designer Today creative economics has become as important as creative design and creative building The client brings builder contractor architect and facilities manager to account in their life time The cost of building can therefore no longer be left to chance or act of god Solutions are no longer as ingeniously simple as those proposed by a Florentine builder early in the 15th century He proposed to center the dome of S Maria del Fiore on a great mound of earth mixed with pennies When the job was done street urchins would carry away the dirt in their search for the pennies This was a serious suggestion offered by an early construction manager before Brunelleschi solved the problem more sensibly The Engineering Handbook Richard C Dorf,2018-10-03 First published in 1995 The Engineering Handbook quickly became the definitive engineering reference Although it remains a bestseller the many advances realized in traditional engineering fields along with the emergence and rapid growth of fields such as biomedical engineering computer engineering and nanotechnology mean that the time has come to bring this standard setting reference up to date New in the Second Edition 19 completely new chapters addressing important topics in bioinstrumentation control systems nanotechnology image and signal processing electronics environmental systems structural systems 131 chapters fully revised and updated Expanded lists of engineering associations and societies The Engineering Handbook Second Edition is designed to enlighten experts in areas outside their own specialties to refresh the knowledge of mature practitioners and to educate engineering novices Whether you work in industry government or academia this is simply the best most useful engineering reference you can have in your personal office or institutional library Publications United States. National Bureau of Standards,1989 The Technology Management Handbook Richard C. Dorf,1998-07-27 If you are not already in a management position chances are you soon will be According to the Bureau of Statistics the fastest growing areas of employment for engineers are in engineering science management With over 200 contributing authors The Technology Management Handbook informs and assists the more than 1.5 million engineering managers in the practice of technical management Written from the technical manager's perspective and written for technologists who are managers The Technology Management Handbook presents in

Performance of Buildings and Serviceability of Facilities Gerald Davis,1990 Risk Exposure and Risk Attitude of Home Owners in Fire Protection Investment Decisions Sieglinde K. Fuller,1989 The report demonstrates that the Analytic Hierarchy Process AHP is a promising decision tool for evaluating fire protection systems for homeowners It lays the ground for development of specialized computer software for applying the AHP to decisions of individual homeowners Unlike conventional methods of economic analysis the AHP integrates quantifiable and qualitative variables The study explores how to include in the decision making process information on an individual s risk exposure and risk attitude information which is generally difficult or impossible to quantify By differentiating between risk exposure and risk attitude this application goes beyond the AHP s conventional treatment of risk The AHP is applied to the choice of purchasing smoke detectors a sprinkler system or a combination of the two Two hypothetical cases are assumed one in which the homeowner is risk taking and has lower than average risk exposure and one in which the homeowner is risk averse and has higher than average risk exposure Subjective probabilities of fire death injury and property loss are merged with more easily quantifiable benefit and cost criteria A method of pairwise comparisons provides the data to calculate priority vectors for the fire protection alternatives
