Braudel Revisited Gabriel Piterberg, Teofilo Ruiz, Geoffrey Symcox, 2015-10-06 Fernand Braudel 1912-1985 was a leading French historian and author of among other books the groundbreaking The Mediterranean and the Mediterranean World in the Age of Philip II 1949 One of the founders of the Annales School in France Braudel insisted on treating the Mediterranean region as a whole irrespective of religious and national divides Braudel's new historiography rejected political history as the dominant discipline and espoused a total history or a history from below that would tell the story of the vast majority of humanity hitherto excluded from the grand narrative At the time of the book's appearance this premise was revolutionary The contributors to Braudel Revisited assess the impact of Braudel's work on today's academic world in light of subsequent methodological shifts Engaging with Braudel's texts as well as with his ideas the essays in this volume speak to the enduring legacy of his work on the ongoing exploration of early modern history

Mahler and His World Karen Painter, 2020-09-01 From the composer's lifetime to the present day Gustav Mahler's music has provoked extreme responses from the public and from experts Poised between the Romantic tradition he radically renewed and the austere modernism whose exponents he inspired Mahler was a consummate public persona and yet an impassioned artist who withdrew to his lakeside hut where he composed his vast symphonies and intimate song cycles His advocates have produced countless studies of the composer's life and work But they have focused on analysis internal to the compositions along with their programmatic contexts In this volume musicologists and historians turn outward to examine the broader political social and literary changes reflected in Mahler's music Peter Franklin takes up questions of gender Talia Pecker Berio examines the composer's Jewish identity and Thomas Peattie Charles S Maier and Karen Painter consider respectively contemporary theories of memory the theatricality of Mahler's art and fin de siècle politics and the impinging confrontation with mass society The private world of Gustav Mahler in his songs and late works is explored by leading Austrian musicologist Peter Revers and a German counterpart Camilla Bork and by the American Mahler expert Stephen Hefling Mahler's symphonies challenged Europeans and Americans to experience music in new ways Before his decision to move to the United States the composer knew of the enthusiastic response from America's urban musical audiences Mahler and His World reproduces reviews of these early performances for the first time edited by Zo Lang The Mahler controversy that polarized Austrians and Germans also unfolds through a series of documents heretofore unavailable in English edited by Painter and Bettina Varwig and the terms of the debate are examined by Leon Botstein in the context of Music and the Politics of Negation James R. Currie, 2012-08-23 Over the past quarter century music studies in the academy have their postmodern credentials by insisting that our scholarly engagements start and end by placing music firmly within its various historical and social contexts In Music and the Politics of Negation James R Currie sets out to disturb the validity of this now quite orthodox claim Alternating dialectically between analytic and historical investigations into the late 18th century and the present he poses a set of uncomfortable questions regarding the limits and complicities of the values that the academy keeps in circulation by means of its musical encounters His overriding thesis is that the forces that have formed us are not our fate

Reference Studies in Mediaeval History James Westfall Thompson, 1907

Vanishing Sensibilities Kristina Muxfeldt, 2012-01-19 Vanishing Sensibilities examines once passionate cultural concerns that shaped music of Schubert Beethoven Schumann and works of their contemporaries in drama or poetry Music especially music with text was a powerful force in lively ongoing conversations about the nature of liberty which included such topics as the role of consent in marriage same sex relationships freedom of the press and the freedom to worship or not Among the most common vehicles for stimulating debate about pressing social concerns were the genres of historical drama and legend or myth whose stories became inflected in fascinating ways during the Age of Metternich Interior and imagined worlds memories and fantasies were called up in purely instrumental music and music was privately celebrated for its ability to circumvent the restrictions that were choking the verbal arts Author Kristina Muxfeldt invites us to listen in on these cultural conversations dating from a time when the climate of censorship made the tone of what was said every bit as important as its literal content At this critical moment in European history such things as a performer s delivery spontaneous improvisation or the demeanor of the music could carry forbidden messages of hope and political resistance flying under the censor's radar like a carrier pigeon Rather than trying to decode or fix meanings Muxfeldt concerns herself with the very mechanisms of their communication and she confronts distortions to meaning that form over time as the cultural or political pressures shaping the original expression fade and are eventually forgotten In these pages are accounts of works successful in their own time alongside others that failed to achieve more than a liminal presence among them Schubert's Alfonso und Estrella and his last opera project Der Graf von Gleichen whose libretto was banned even before Schubert set to work composing it Enlivening the narrative are generous music examples reproductions of artwork and facsimiles of autograph material
