The Yahwist's Landscape Theodore Hiebert, 1996-06-20 The present ecological crisis has created new interest in and criticism of biblical attitudes toward nature In this book Theodore Hiebert offers a comprehensive examination of the ideology of a single biblical author the Yahwist J writer of the oldest narrative sections of Genesis Exodus and Numbers Hiebert argues the importance of reading J in its ancient Near Eastern context His analysis incorporates evidence concerning the ecologies economies and religions of the ancient Levant drawn from recent work in archaeology history social anthropology and comparative religion Hiebert finds that despite the limitations of J's world view and the world in which it took shape J's ideology is relevant to contemporary efforts to frame a theology of ecology Particularly valuable are J's views of reality as unified and non dualistic humanity as limited and dependent nature and humanity as interrelated and holding sacred significance and agriculture as a context for an ecological theology Genesis 1-11 Andrew Louth, Thomas C. Oden, 2001-04-03 The creation narrative in the early chapters of Genesis proved irresistible to the church fathers Following the apostle Paul they explored the six days of creation and the profound significance of Adam as a type of Christ the second Adam With comment from Basil the Great Ambrose and Augustine this ACCS volume on Genesis 1-11 opens up a treasure house of ancient wisdom The Sources of the Pentateuch Displayed Malcolm C. Douglas, 2000-01-01 A Survey of the Old Testament Andrew E. Hill, John H. The Historical-Critical Method: A Guide for the Perplexed David R. Law, 2012-04-26 Historical Critical Analysis is the main way in which the Bible both the Hebrew Bible Old Testament and the New Testament has been examined and read by scholars in the last century The term refers to a range of methodologies which examine the origins of biblical texts in relation to other contemporaneous texts to form critical approaches and to questions of authorship audience and authenticity The aim is to get as close to the original text and its original meaning as possible For many years Historical Critical Method has been the cornerstone upon which biblical scholarship is built even as modern studies examine other theoretical approaches to reading the text in history tradition and from different audience perspectives the Historical Critical Method still presents the crucial starting point for students and scholars

Linguistic Evidence for the Pre-exilic Date of the Yahwistic Source Rick Wright, 2005-05-01 For the past few decades a growing number of scholars have attempted to overthrow the traditional Wellhausenian view that the so called Yahwist or J source of the Pentateuch is the oldest of the four major sources These scholars have argued that J was composed during the exilic or post exilic periods of ancient Israel Their arguments have focused on the literary historiographic and theological characteristics of J This book attempts to re evaluate on linguistic grounds such efforts to place the Yahwist source in the exilic or post exilic periods The study employs the methodology developed most prominently by Avi Hurvitz for identifying characteristic features of post exilic Hebrew Late Biblical Hebrew This divides the language of the Hebrew Bible into three main chronological stages Archaic Biblical Hebrew ABH Standard Biblical Hebrew SBH and Late Biblical Hebrew LBH Wright examines 40 features of J for which useful comparisons can be made to LBH and finds no evidence of LBH in the entire Yahwist source Therefore it is unlikely that J was composed during the post exilic period Moreover since Hurvitz has shown that the exilic period was a time of transition between SBH and LBH such that late features began to occur in exilic texts the author concludes on linguistic grounds that J was most likely composed during the pre exilic period of ancient Israel
