The Southern and Central Alabama Expeditions of Clarence Bloomfield Moore Clarence Bloomfield Moore, 2001-04-09
The works by Clarence B Moore reproduced in this volume were published originally in 1899 1901 1903 1904 1905 1907 and 1918 Moore Expedition Series Clarence Bloomfield Moore, 1993-04-01 The Louisiana and Arkansas Expeditions of Clarence Bloomfield Moore Clarence Bloomfield Moore, 2003 The ninth and final volume in the C B Moore reprint series that covers archaeological discoveries along North American Waterways The Northwest Florida Expeditions of Clarence Bloomfield Moore Clarence Bloomfield Moore, 1999-09-27 This comprehensive compilation of Moore's archaeological reports on northwest Florida and southern Alabama and Georgia presents the earliest documented investigations of this region

The Moundville Expeditions of Clarence Bloomfield Moore, 1996 The two works reproduced by facsimile in this volume were published originally in the Journal of the Academy of Natural Sciences of Philadelphia in 1905 and 1907 The West and Central Florida Expeditions of Clarence Bloomfield Moore Clarence Bloomfield Moore, 1999-07-20 This compilation of Moore's publications on western and central Florida provides all of his archaeological data on the region's mounds and prehistoric canals in a single volume The name Clarence B Moore is familiar to every archaeologist interested in the southeastern United States This amateur archaeologist's numerous scientific expeditions to the region resulted in dozens of well illustrated publications the value of which increases daily as many of the sites he investigated continue to be destroyed by modern development Moore invested considerable time and effort exploring Florida's archaeological sites devoting more pages of published reports and articles to Florida than to any other state Because of the wealth of material on Florida Moore's Florida expedition publications have been collected in three separate volumes all published within the Classics in Southeastern Archaeology series The thirteen papers reproduced in this volume present the results of Moore's research in West and Central Florida Moore's first and last expeditions were to Florida and spanned almost fifty years of archaeological investigations Following the eastern river drainages to central and western Florida in 1900 Moore concentrated his efforts along the Florida Gulf Coast spurred by the exciting discoveries of Frank Hamilton Cushing at Key Marco in 1896 Although this region is rich in mound sites many sites located by Moore in the early years of this century had already been destroyed by construction and lime processing In addition to mound groupings some containing masses of skeletal remains Moore found a number of sites connected by a network of prehistoric canals Several of the sites located by Moore contained European trade goods and have been used to trace the early wanderings of the conquistadores in the New World Moore's early work on the Florida Gulf Coast succeeded in preserving much of the archaeological record in this area He is to be credited with remarkable insights concerning mound and earthwork construction artifact trade networks and chronology development New Methods and Theories for Analyzing Mississippian Imagery Bretton T. Giles, Shawn P. Lambert, 2021-10-19 Exploring various methodological and theoretical approaches to pre-Columbian visual culture the essays in this volume reconstruct dynamic accounts of Native American history across the U S Southeast Mound Sites of the Ancient South Eric E. Bowne, 2013-06-01 From approximately AD 900 to 1600 ancient Mississippian culture dominated today's southeastern United States. These Native American societies, known more popularly as moundbuilders, had populations that numbered in the thousands, produced vast surpluses of food, engaged in long-distance trading, and were ruled by powerful leaders who raised large armies. Mississippian chiefdoms built fortified towns with massive earthen structures used as astrological monuments and burial grounds. The remnants of these cities, scattered throughout the Southeast from Florida north to Wisconsin and as far west as Texas, are still visible and awe-inspiring today. This heavily illustrated guide brings these settlements to life with maps, artists' reconstructions, photos of artifacts, and historic and modern photos of sites connecting our archaeological knowledge with what is visible when visiting the sites today. Anthropologist Eric E. Bowne discusses specific structures at each location and highlights noteworthy museums, artifacts, and cultural features. He also provides an introduction to Mississippian culture, offering background on subsistence and settlement practices, political and social organization, warfare, and belief systems that will help readers better understand these complex and remarkable places. Sites include Cahokia, Moundville, Etowah, and many more.

The Search for Mabila Vernon J. Knight, 2009-04-26 The Search for Mabila describes one of the most profound events in sixteenth-century North America, which was a ferocious battle between the Spanish army of Hernando de Soto and a larger force of Indian warriors under the leadership of a feared chieftain named Tascalusa.

Southern Footprints Gregory A. Waselkov, Philip J. Carr, 2024 Southern Footprints celebrates the more than fifty years of research projects carried out by University of South Alabama archaeologists and students, as well as staff at the Center for Archaeological Studies in Mobile. Their dynamic work has been public-facing through programs and exhibits curated at the University of South Alabama Archaeology Museum. Archaeologists Gregory A. Waselkov, former director of the Center, and Philip J. Carr, current director of the Center, present the greatest hits that have transformed knowledge of human history on the Alabama and Mississippi Gulf Coast from the Ice Age until recently. Of the hundreds of archaeological sites, premiere historic sites such as Old Mobile and Holy Ground are now archaeological preserves. Essays are arranged chronologically overall and survey the history and archaeology of a wide range of significant sites, such as the Gulf Shores canoe canal, Bottle Creek Mounds, Old Mobile Fort Mims, Spanish Fort, Spring Hill College, and Mobile River Bridge. Waselkov and Carr take care to acknowledge in these stories populations who are typically underdocumented and recognize the contributions of Native Americans and African Americans as uncovered through archaeology. While documenting all material culture and places that have been saved and preserved, they also note the dire impacts of climate change, environmental disasters, development, and neglect, and share their urgency to protect these areas of shared history. Copious color photographs showcase the archaeology as it unfolded, often with the help of dedicated volunteers. Southern Footprints will serve as an indispensable reference on the rich Gulf heritage for all to appreciate.

Reconstructing Tascalusa's Chiefdom Amanda L. Regnier, 2014-07-31 Reconstructing Tascalusa's Chiefdom is an archaeological study of political collapse in the Alabama River Valley following the Hernando de Soto expedition To explain the cultural and political disruptions caused by Hernando de Soto's exploration deep into north America Amanda L Regnier presents an innovative analysis of ceramics and theory of cultural exchange She argues that culture consists of a series of interconnected models governing proper behavior that are shared across the belief systems of communities and individuals Historic cognitive models derived from ceramic data via cluster and correspondence analysis can effectively be used to examine these models and explain cultural exchange The results of Regnier's work demonstrate that the Alabama River Valley was settled by populations migrating from three different regions during the late fifteenth century The mixture of ceramic models associated with these traditions at Late Mississippian sites suggests that these newly founded towns controlled by Tascalusa comprised ethnically and linguistically diverse populations Perhaps most significantly Tascalusa's chiefdom appears to be a precontact example of a coalescent society that emerged after populations migrated from the deteriorating Mississippian chiefdoms into a new region A summary of excavations at Late Mississippian sites also includes the first published chronology of the Alabama River from approximately AD 900 to 1600
