The Soviet and Other Communist Navies James L. George, 1986 Om den sovjetiske flådes anvendelse organisation og mission samt anvendelse organisation og mission for andre kommunistiske landes flåder

A Tale of Two Navies Anthony R Wells, 2017-01-15 A Tale of Two Navies is an analysis of the unique relationship between the United States Navy and the Royal Navy from 1960 to present This loosely chronological study examines the histories strategies operations technology and intelligence activities of both navies The special intelligence relationship is highlighted by unique knowledge and insights into the workings of U S and British intelligence Bringing his extensive experience in both navies to bear Anthony Wells provides a revealing look at the importance of naval thinking how it impacts not only every level of naval activity but also national defense as a whole A Tale of Two Navies probes selective key themes and offers a discourse between the author and readers Throughout Wells challenges his reader to consider how the U S and the U K can best collaborate to advance their common strategic interests This insightful look at the special relationship is especially relevant given emerging and increasing threats from China Russia and radical Islamist terror organizations

China Goes to Sea

Andrew S. Erickson, Lyle J Goldstein, Carnes Lord, 2009-07-01 In modern history China has been primarily a land power dominating smaller states along its massive continental flanks But China's turn toward the sea is now very much a reality as evident in its stunning rise in global shipbuilding markets its vast and expanding merchant marine the wide offshore reach of its energy and minerals exploration companies its growing fishing fleet and indeed its increasingly modern navy Yet for all these achievements there is still profound skepticism regarding China's potential as a genuine maritime power Beijing must still import the most vital subcomponents for its shipyards maritime governance remains severely bureaucratically challenged and the navy evinces at least as of yet little enthusiasm for significant blue water power projection capabilities This volume provides a truly comprehensive assessment of prospects for China's maritime development by situating these important geostrategic phenomena within a larger world historical context China is hardly the only land power in history to attempt transformation by fostering sea power Many continental powers have elected or been impelled to transform themselves into significant maritime powers in order to safeguard their strategic position or advance their interests We examine cases of attempted transformation from the Persian Empire to the Soviet Union and determine the reasons for their success or failure Too many works on China view the nation in isolation Of course China's history and culture are to some extent exceptional but building intellectual fences actually hinders the effort to understand China's current development trajectory Without underestimating the enduring pull of China's past as it relates to threats to the country's internal stability and its landward borders this comparative study provides reason to believe that China has turned the corner on a genuine maritime transformation If that proves indeed to be the case it would be a remarkable if not singular event in the history of the last two millennia

Congress. House. Committee on Armed Services. Subcommittee on Military Installations and Facilities,1986 How Strategic Airpower has Changed the World Order Nigel David MacCartan-Ward,Anthony Wells,2024-06-30 This work demonstrates how maritime deterrence strategy in a challenging world is critically underpinned by strategic air power at sea and on land In this book the history and utility of land and carrier based strategic airpower is brought to life by the gallant exploits and photographs of B 17 aircraft Quittin Time and of its Navigator Fred Julian in the Second World War and by the unforgiving and unswerving dedication of Sharkey Ward and his Sea Harrier team in the Falklands war The overarching message is that the strategic airpower lessons of the past eight decades underpin the urgent need for the UK government to invest more wisely in its Fleet so that the latter may work effectively in conjunction with the US Navy on the global mission to deter those that would harm us and to maintain the freedom of passage of all shipping throughout the global commons The authors show how a maritime deterrence strategy in a challenging world is critically underpinned by strategic air power at sea and on land
