Biomarkers: Precision Nutrition in Chronic Diseases Yulong Li, Shuang Song, Zhenjun Zhu, 2023-08-15 Chronic diseases such as obesity diabetes and cardiovascular disease are major causes of morbidity and mortality worldwide with increasing prevalence in all age groups genders and ethnicities Emerging evidence suggests that precision nutrition plays a pivotal role in the prevention and management of chronic diseases and has been recognized as a key focus for the next ten years of health research Currently one of the major challenges in precision nutrition is the valid and reliable assessment of foods and nutrients intake especially whole foods e g fermented foods and macromolecules e g polysaccharides as well as their impact on host health and disease Strong evidence has supported that the biomarkers e g metabolites as an intermediate bridge can effectively link precision nutrition and chronic diseases which can contribute to objectively assessing food consumption and precisely determining the biological effects of complex foods ingredients However still we are at the very beginning to understand how precision nutrition regulates biomarkers to prevent chronic diseases with individual differences The molecular mechanisms of key biomarkers in chronic diseases have not been fully elucidated and extensive studies are crucially warranted Inflammatory Bowel Diseases 1990 D.
