Multiracial Identity and Racial Politics in the United States Natalie Masuoka, 2017 Policy makers academic administrators scholars and members of the public are clamoring for indicators of the value and reach of research The question of how to quantify the impact and importance of research and scholarly output from the publication of books and journal articles to the indexing of citations and tweets is a critical one in predicting innovation and in deciding what sorts of research is supported and whom is hired to carry it out There is a wide set of data and tools available for measuring research but they are often used in crude ways and each have their own limitations and internal logics Measuring Research What Everyone Needs to Know R will provide for the first time an accessible account of the methods used to gather and analyze data on research output and impact Following a brief history of scholarly communication and its measurement from traditional peer review to crowdsourced review on the social web the book will look at the classification of knowledge and academic disciplines the differences between citations and references the role of peer review national research evaluation exercises the tools used to measure research the many different types of measurement indicators and how to measure interdisciplinarity The book also addresses emerging issues within scholarly communication including whether or not measurement promotes a publish or perish culture fraud in research or citation cartels It will also look at the stakeholders behind these analytical tools the adverse effects of these quantifications and the future of research measurement Anthropology and Slavery at the Dawn of White Supremacy Michael L.

Blakey,2025-07-18 This volume examines biological and cultural data that debunk a primordial basis for racism It tracks the ancient history of all social inequity to agricultural and feudal societies The book then focuses on social and ideological developments in European societies associated with religious justifications for the enslavement of others The European Enlightenment built upon those prejudices with ideas about nature and acceptable natural causes of unequal social status for people newly classified into biological races Nineteenth century anthropology is critiqued by African diasporic scholars who are the first Americans to argue that nurture rather than nature is responsible for human variation The American Civil War brought slavery nearly to an end but racist science continued to grow as eugenics applied to justify otherwise unjustifiable structures of human inequality such as Jim Crow segregation as though they are morally sound In constructing this historical and sociological counternarrative the author provides a critical new social history that illuminates a tangled and turgid past for contemporary readers students and researchers with vital insights for anthropology sociology history cultural studies philosophy and American studies Asian Americans Xiaojian Zhao,Edward J.W. a masterful narrative history of the Chinese in America that traces the sorrowful theme of exclusion and documents their more than century long struggle to belong A MOST ANTICIPATED BOOK OF 2025 Time A NEW YORK TIMES NONFICTION BOOK TO READ THIS SPRING A story about aspiration and belonging that is as universal as it is profound Patrick Radden Keefe author of Say Nothing A gift to anyone interested in American history I couldn t stop turning pages Charles Yu author of Interior Chinatown What history should be richly detailed authoritative and compelling David Grann author of The Wager and Killers of the Flower Moon Strangers in the Land tells the story of a people who beginning in the middle of the nineteenth century migrated by the tens of thousands to a distant land they called Gum Shan Gold Mountain Americans initially welcomed these Chinese arrivals but as their numbers grew horrific episodes of racial terror erupted on the Pacific coast A prolonged economic downturn that idled legions of white workingmen helped create the conditions for what came next a series of progressively more onerous federal laws aimed at excluding Chinese laborers from the country marking the first time the United States barred a people based on their race In a captivating debut Michael Luo follows the Chinese from these early years to modern times as they persisted in the face of bigotry and persecution revealing anew the complications of our multiracial democracy Luo writes of early victims of anti Asian violence like Gene Tong a Los Angeles herbalist who was dragged from his apartment and hanged by a mob during one of the worst mass lynchings in the country s history of demagogues like Denis Kearney a sandlot orator who became the face of the anti Chinese movement in the late 1870s of the pioneering activist Wong Chin Foo and other leaders of the Chinese community who pressed their new homeland to live up to its stated ideals At the book s heart is a shameful chapter of American history the brutal driving out of Chinese residents from towns across the American West The Chinese became the country s first undocumented immigrants hounded counted suspected surveilled In 1889 while upholding Chinese exclusion Supreme Court Justice Stephen J Field characterized them as strangers in the land Only in 1965 did America s gates swing open to people like Luo s parents immigrants from Taiwan Today there are more than twenty two million people of Asian descent in the United States and yet the stranger label Luo writes remains Drawing on archives from across the country and written with a New Yorker writer s style and sweep Strangers in the Land is revelatory and unforgettable an essential American story Street Therapists Ana Y.

Ramos-Zayas,2022-12-22 Drawing from almost a decade of ethnographic research in largely Brazilian and Puerto Rican neighborhoods in Newark New Jersey Ana Y Ramos Zayas in Street Therapists examines how affect emotion and sentiment serve as waypoints for the navigation of interracial relationships among US born Latinos Latin American migrants blacks and white ethnics Tackling a rarely studied dynamic approach to affect Ramos Zayas offers a thorough and sometimes paradoxical new articulation of race space and neoliberalism in US urban communities After looking at the historical political and economic contexts in which an intensified connection between affect and race has emerged in Newark New Jersey Street Therapists engages in detailed examinations of various community sites including high schools workplaces beauty salons and funeral homes among others and secondary sites in Belo Horizonte Brazil and San Juan to uncover the ways US born Latinos and Latin American migrants interpret and analyze everyday racial encounters through a language of psychology and emotions As Ramos Zayas notes this emotive approach to race resurrects Latin American and Caribbean ideologies of racial democracy in an urban US context and often leads to new psychological stereotypes and forms of social exclusion Extensively researched and thoughtfully argued Street Therapists theorizes the conflictive connection between race affect and urban neoliberalism

A Chinese American Odyssey John Jung, 2014-11-12 This memoir describes the discoveries many unexpected when a Chinese American psychology professor retires and reinvents himself as a public historian of Chinese in America Author of four books on the social history of Chinese family run businesses he has given dozens of lectures around the country A Chinese American Odyssey provides a fascinating and insightful behind the scenes look at the processes involved in researching writing publishing and promoting books Writers of books on any topic will find useful information

Racial Segregation and Eugenical Science Between the Wars Michael L. Blakey, 2025-07-18 This volume examines the rise and decline of racial science and its relationship to the political and social imposition of Jim Crow in the American South a racialized code of laws grounded upon an inherently racist and prejudicial pseudoscience The author argues here that the study of human beings within the emerging 18th and 19th century institutions of Western science was corrupted by the limited social intuitions of its enslaving colonizing and elitist members Western science and White societies plowed forward in continued ideological adherence to a biodeterministic imagination to justify slavery then Jim Crow racial segregation immigration restriction and other deadly and exploitative eugenical solutions of Social Darwinist thought The story is further complexified by the countervailing theories and voices of Black and Jewish intellectuals in the social and biocultural sciences in the 19th and 20th centuries such as Frederick Douglass W E B Du Bois and Montague Cobb These had profound consequences not only for the social sciences but also for the cultural life of Black Americans in the aftermath and afterlife of slavery At the same time even here the author discloses that the racialized dimensions of social science could not be fully exorcised as social science continued to construct soft line racism in that it selectively primitivized darker people and omitted White racism and colonialism from their human story African American social scientists and historians brought White racism and Black modernity to the fore Eugenics had begun to paint marginal White people Jewish and Italian immigrants to the United States as natural inferiors to Nordics or Aryans with devastating consequences in World War II Europe As the War ended the world community began its turn against racism in science and society In constructing this historical and sociological counternarrative the author provides a critical new social history that illuminates a tangled and turgid past for contemporary readers students and researchers with vital insights for anthropology sociology history cultural studies philosophy and American studies
