Doughty, 1995-01-01 A brief illustrated study of the mockingbird The Wood Warblers Barth Schorre, 1998-01-01 Wood warbler migrations every spring and fall are one of the most anticipated highlights of the North American birder's year The warblers frequently colorful appearance and distinctive songs make them especially attractive birds to observe but their quick darting movements often among the highest branches of the trees can make it difficult to tell one species from another This book is a handy beginner's pictorial guide to the identification of forty nine wood warbler species that commonly nest in the United States and Canada Barth Schorre's outstanding color photographs help you distinguish each species Both males and females are usually shown when they differ significantly in appearance An accompanying description gives each species common and Latin names average length general range relative abundance and identifying characteristics Schorre also briefly discusses the life history and migratory patterns of warblers the diminishing numbers of some species and ways to attract warblers to your yard The Purple Martin Robin W. Doughty, Rob Fergus, 2002 One of the surest harbingers of spring is the return of Purple Martins to the houses that people put up across the United States to attract these companionable birds The bustle of courting rearing nestlings and fledging young martins fills the summer months until approaching autumn lures the martins to their winter range in South America Then human landlords refurbish their martin houses and wait for another round of this much anticipated yearly cycle Robin Doughty and Rob Fergus here present a concise natural history of the bird and its centuries long companionship with people They discuss the martin's scientific classification and names its migration and range and its family life They relate stories of how Native Americans and European colonists attracted Purple Martins and how Americans throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries helped martins survive the loss of natural nesting sites by providing houses for them Ornithology Books in the Library of Trinity College, Hartford Trinity College (Hartford, Conn.).
