The Minds We Contextualism In Cognitive Psychology:

The Mind's We Diane Gillespie, 1992 In a journey to the theoretical roots of human psychology Diane Gillespie defends the concept of contextualism in a field in which mechanism has prevailed Gillespie explains both theories in a historical overview of cognitive psychology and then contrasts them in three chapters on visual perception memory and categorization She clarifies the inadequacy of mechanism as the sole model of cognition by including narratives based on her own life that focus on the dynamic ways we interact with the world Providing a subtheme of contemporary concern Gillespie argues that a psychological theory open to everyday contexts has important implications for women whose perspectives have been underrepresented in the literature of cognitive psychology She does not posit contextualism as the next exclusive viewpoint but suggests instead a pluralism with no one viewpoint overshadowing the others

The Cognitive Humanities Peter Garratt, 2016-11-23 This book identifies the cognitive humanities with new approaches to literature and culture that engage with recent theories of the embodied mind in cognitive science If cognition should be approached less as a matter of internal representation a Cartesian inner theatre than as a form of embodied action how might cultural representation be rethought What can literature and culture reveal or challenge about embodied minds The essays in this book ask what new directions in the humanities open up when the thinking self is understood as a participant in contexts of action even as extended beyond the skin Building on cognitive literary studies but engaging much more extensively with 4E cognitive science embodied embedded enactive extended than previously the book uses case studies from many different historical settings such as early modern theatre and digital technologies and in different media narrative art performance to explore the embodied mind through culture

A Contextualistic Worldview Lewis Edwin Hahn, 2001 This selection of articles by Lewis E Hahn addresses the philosophical school of contextualism and four contemporary American philosophers John Dewey Henry Nelson Wieman Stephen C Pepper and Brand Blanshard Stressing the relatively recent contextualistic worldview which he considers one of the best world hypotheses Hahn seeks to achieve a broad perspective within which all things may be given their due place After providing a brief outline Hahn explains contextualism in relation to other philosophies In his opening chapter as in later chapters he expresses contextualism as a form of pragmatic naturalism In spite of Hahn's high regard for contextualism however he does not think it would be good if we were limited to a single worldview The more different views we have and the more different sources of possible light we have the better our chances that some of these cosmic maps will shed light on our world and our place in it

The Great Bamboozle Richard Cimbalo PhD,2025-07-14 A gross distortion of reality has permeated our lives and has since the beginning of our social existence We have lived in a state of perpetual bamboozlement We learn to see categorical wholes and other fictions rather than what is there before our eyes Simple irrefutable truths presented in this book debunk the nonsense we have created Using ideas drawn from physics psychology history personal and world and philosophy The Great Bamboozle argues that the real world isn't about one truth one nation one God or special creations Instead the simple truth lies in diversity Reality is that no two things in the universe are the same and the corollary that everything is in a constant state of flux Accepting these simple facts can radically alter our worldview This study opens new ways of thinking about the individual power equal rights and freedom making the possibility of world peace clearer A peaceful and exciting future for all can be glimpsed if we can accept that each person is different and allow each more freedom to choose their own path and not suffer from the intense programming using the nonsense that has existed Love viewed from this vantage point occurs when two can fully accept and respect each other's differences Humans must abandon vanity and embrace compassion to achieve the second renaissance in our evolution Evolution is slow but accepting reality is a big step forward

Empire and Memory Alain M. Gowing,2005-08-11 The memory of the Roman Republic exercised a powerful influence on several generations of Romans who lived under its political and cultural successor the Principate or Empire Empire and Memory explores how and why that memory manifested itself over the course of the early Principate Making use of the close relationship between memoria and historia in Roman thought and drawing on modern studies of historical memory this book offers case studies of major imperial authors from the reign of Tiberius to that of Trajan AD 14-117 The memory evident in literature is linked to that imprinted on Rome's urban landscape with special attention paid to the Forum of Augustus and the Forum of Trajan both which are particularly suggestive reminders of the transition from a time when the memory of the Republic was highly valued and celebrated to one when its grip had begun to loosen

Restoring the Human Context to Literary and Performance Studies Howard Mancing,Jennifer Marston William,2022-01-28 Restoring the Human Context to Literary and Performance Studies argues that much of contemporary literary theory is still predicated at least implicitly on outdated linguistic and psychological models such as post structuralism psychoanalysis and behaviorism which significantly contradict current dominant scientific views By contrast this monograph promotes an alternative paradigm for literary studies namely Contextualism and in so doing highlights the similarities and differences among the sometimes conflicting contemporary cognitive approaches to literature and performance arguing not in favor of one over the other but for Contextualism as their
