Oceanography and Marine Biology An Annual Review remains one of the most cited sources in marine science and oceanography The ever increasing interest in work in oceanography and marine biology and its relevance to global environmental issues especially global climate change and its impacts creates a demand for authoritative reviews summarizing the results of recent research OMBAR has catered to this demand since its foundation more than 50 years ago Following the favourable reception and complimentary reviews accorded to all the volumes Volume 56 continues to regard the marine sciences with all their various aspects as a unity Physical chemical and biological aspects of marine science are dealt with by experts actively engaged in these fields and every chapter is peer reviewed by other experts working actively in the specific areas of interest The series is an essential reference text for researchers and students in all fields of marine science and related subjects and it finds a place in libraries of universities marine laboratories research institutes and government departments      The Source Book of Marine Sciences Florida. Richard Blanchard,Lois Farrell,2023-07-28      Investigating the oceans Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Science and Technology Committee,Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Select Committee on Science and Technology,2007-10-18 Ocean processes are fundamental to climate and weather patterns across the world they provide minerals foods and chemicals as well as being major energy resources both hydrocarbons and renewables Oceans also provide services in the form of transport trade communications and recreation as well as services through the maintenance of biological and landscape diversity the importance of which may only be fully appreciated by future generations For all these reasons the Committee's report finds that despite the impressive research efforts of UK institutions and individual scientists oceans need to be monitored and studied more thoroughly than has been the case up to now with better co ordination of activities and increased overall levels of funding The Committee's central recommendation is that there should be a new marine science agency replacing the current inter agency co ordinating committee with a remit to co ordinate marine science throughout the UK promoting marine science education in schools universities and to the wider public Overall responsibility for the UK's marine science strategy should be invested in a designated minister within Defra The new agency should undertake a strategy to tackle skills shortages in marine science and technology engaging with industry and facilitating UK involvement in international organisations as well as co ordinating ocean monitoring and observations Another key task will be to ensure the balance of research effort between the different strands within marine science and between the crucial polar regions with a greater focus in the Arctic albeit not at the expense of the work conducted by the British Antarctic Survey Concerns are raised over the research vessel capacity available to UK scientists provided by NERC especially for coastal research and with regards to the adequacy of Defra s plans to establish marine protected areas under the forthcoming marine bill Arco Coal Oil Point Project, Proposed ,1987 Panel Reports of the Commission on Marine Science, Engineering and Resources United States.
