Climate Change Perception and Changing Agents in Africa & South Asia Vincent Itai Tanyanyiwa,2019-02-04 Climate Change Perception and Changing Agents in Africa South Asia presents first hand experiences of climate change perception Now more than ever understanding public perceptions of climate change is fundamental in creating effective climate policies especially within countries that are particularly vulnerable to climate change Striving to present a comprehensive study of climate perception in Africa and South Asia this volume presents seven in depth case studies from Cameroon the Eastern Himalayas Kenya Nepal and Zimbabwe In order to combat climate change effective communication is essential in order to educate persuade warn and mobilize the masses Therefore climate change communication is shaped not only by our different experiences and beliefs but also by the underlying cultural and politic values of a country Within this volume climate change communication is examined from Cameroonian Kenyan and Zimbabwean perspectives From the role of stakeholders to practical field experiences the individual case studies present an interesting and informative portrait of climate change communication It is often the poorest and most vulnerable people who are most affected by the impacts of climate change Therefore community based adaptation is an approach that is aimed at empowering communities in the process of planning for and coping with climate change In this book this progressive and innovative approach is examined from a grass roots perspective that looks to both the Eastern Himalayas and Zimbabwe Readers are presented with case studies that investigate the importance of indigenous knowledge community based research and the role of social workers in climate change mitigation This high quality resource puts forward a well informed and accessible discussion of climate change perception that will be of interest to both students and scholars alike      Research in Education ,1972-05

Environmental Education Matthew Etherington,2023-08-03 This book has a single motif and a dual purpose Its motif is the portrayal of influential authors within an environmental framework and worldview The design is presented in different ways in which environmental understandings might be understood The purposes are to engender in the reader a broad knowledge of some of the ideas and problems inherent in a discussion of nature and the environment and to stimulate the reader to go further into the sources of their tradition and worldview in search of meaning and insights that are uniquely relevant to their philosophy
