Studies in Art, Architecture, and Design:
Victorian and after Nikolaus Pevsner, 1908 Mackintosh's Masterwork Charles Rennie Mackintosh, 2004 Of the many practitioners of art nouveau in Great Britain Charles Rennie Mackintosh 1868 1928 has outlasted them all His work bridged the more ornate style of the later nineteenth century and the forms of international modernism that followed Like Frank Lloyd Wright with whom he is frequently compared he is known for so thoroughly integrating art and decoration that the two became inseparable His work has been honored by a major exhibition at the Metropolitan Museum of Art and his designs have proliferated to such an extent that they can be found reproduced in posters prints jewelry and even new buildings His most important project was the Glasgow School of Art which still functions as a highly prestigious art school This glorious building is visited each year by thousands of tourists from around the world Built over a dozen years beginning in 1897 the Glasgow School of Art is Mackintosh s greatest and most influential legacy This completely redesigned and heavily illustrated edition of Mackintosh's Masterwork has been greatly expanded and contains newly discovered material about both the early life of the architect and the formative years in which his plans for the School of Art were executed

Sources of Regionalism in the Nineteenth Century Linda Van Santvoort, Tom Verschaffel, 2008 KADOC Artes 9 Architectural concepts and styles seem to flourish on a variety of levels from the most local of contexts to the global This book investigates regionalism which is often conceived today as a late nineteenth century phenomenon because of the preservation and restoration movements that arose during that period Derived from the workshop The Sources of Regionalism held by the FWO research group World Views Cultural Identities and Architecture in Western Europe 1815 1940 the essays in this book examine the meaning of regionalism in architecture art and literature its sources and its cultural and historical background The contributors focus on the nineteenth century and the years of the twentieth century before World War I and focus geographically on Western Europe with an emphasis on Belgium France and England Together their essays provide a thorough examination of the complexity and multilayered quality of regionalism
