Sources Of Difference In School Achievement:

Sources of Difference in School Achievement Alan Brimer, 1978      Equality And Achievement In Education James S. Coleman, 2019-08-27 This book presents a major report that has evoked extensive controversy and initiated extensive policy debate on equality and achievement in education It examines the concept of equality of educational opportunity and the relations between equality and achievement and between families and schools      Equality of Educational Opportunity James S. Coleman, 1966 OE 38001 and OE 38001 Supplement A publication of the National Center for Educational Statistics Bound in 2 parts the second part has special t p Supplemental appendix to the survey section 9 10 correlation tables      PISA 2012 Results: What Makes Schools Successful (Volume IV) Resources, Policies and Practices OECD, 2013-12-03 This fourth volume of PISA 2012 results examines how student performance is associated with various characteristics of individual schools and school systems      Resources in Education , 1998-10      The American School Board Journal , 1916      Gifted Students and Inclusion Sarah Schaffer, 1996 Contains journal articles and excerpts from books published between 1993 and 1996      Resources in Women's Educational Equity ,      Understanding Variability in Second Language Acquisition, Bilingualism, and Cognition Kristin Kersten, Adam Winsler, 2022-07-29 This collection brings together linguistic psychological and sociological perspectives reflecting on the relationships and interactions of the multilayered factors impacting second language development and cognitive competence The book advocates a system approach as a counterpoint to existing scholarship which has tended to focus on a small set of variables The 13 chapters demonstrate the ways in which cognitive and linguistic development are intrinsically linked occurring within a nested structure of multiple levels individual neuro cognitive systems and processes individual engagement with the social world and the wider social and institutional environments and cultural contexts affecting the belief systems and linguistic conventions of social groups The volume begins by outlining the theoretical and methodological foundations before moving into a more focused look at the interplay of these different variables at the macro meso and micro levels A final section features two commentary chapters from linguistics and psychology respectively synthesizing insights from earlier chapters and situating the collection within broader scholarship on linguistic and cognitive development theoretical and methodological implications and discussions of avenues for future empirical research This book will be of particular interest to scholars in second language acquisition psycholinguistics cognition psychology and sociology      Schools That Make a Difference Norman Henchey, Society for Advancement of Excellence in Education, 2001 This report provides an analysis of a 2 year study of 12 urban public schools in Canada The purpose of the study was to examine the inner workings of secondary schools in low income settings that create high achievement for their students The schools were selected on the basis of their achievement on provincial school leaving examinations and their socioeconomic status which was based on parental income and education The sample included both high and low achieving schools to identify the factors that appeared to contribute to or inhibit student success The report begins with an overview of the study and a brief synopsis of recent school effectiveness and school improvement literature. The characteristics of the schools and a brief portrait of each school are provided followed by an analysis of the patterns and behaviors found in the sample. Case studies were prepared that used a qualitative method and a common framework. The findings show that each school was trying to adapt to rapidly changing environments. The common elements of success found among the schools were positive attitudes and high expectations, strong and vigilant administration, a focus on academic achievement, and recognition of the need to be accountable for performance. Leading Schools to Success James W. Guthrie, Patrick Schuermann, 2010-12-08 What's missing in education reform in the United States? The answer is leadership, specifically the ability of school and district leaders to construct and continually nurture a culture of sustained high performance. A true leader needs to have not only a vision of the desired culture but the skills and information necessary to make that vision a reality. Providing a combined 70 years of classroom and administrative experience, renowned authors James Guthrie and Patrick Schuermann offer a practice-based approach grounded in research and theory to achieving and maintaining an atmosphere of success in schools through effective leadership.

Handbook of Educational Psychology David C. Berliner, Robert C. Calfee, 2013-02-01 Sponsored by Division 15 of APA, the second edition of this groundbreaking book has been expanded to 41 chapters that provide unparalleled coverage of this far-ranging field. Internationally recognized scholars contribute up-to-date reviews and critical syntheses of the following areas: foundations and the future of educational psychology; learners' development; individual differences; cognition; motivation; content area teaching; socio-cultural perspectives on teaching and learning; teachers and teaching; instructional design; teacher assessment; and modern perspectives on research methodologies; data and data analysis. New chapters cover topics such as adult development, self-regulation, changes in knowledge and beliefs, and writing. Expanded treatment has been given to cognition, motivation, and new methodologies for gathering and analyzing data. The Handbook of Educational Psychology, Second Edition, provides an indispensable reference volume for scholars, teacher educators in service, practitioners, policy makers, and the academic libraries serving these audiences. It is also appropriate for graduate-level courses devoted to the study of educational psychology.

Global Reconstructions of Vocational Education and Training James Avis, 2016-04-08 Vocational education and training (VET) can be difficult to define since it is set in a turbulent and volatile environment marked by national and regional specificities. It can be delivered at different levels and by a variety of providers, including community colleges, colleges of further education, polytechnics, and universities, as well as, importantly, private providers. This collection reflects the shifting and often messy conceptualisations of VET. On one level, VET can be associated with the education and training of craft-skilled workers or of those who are being prepared for a particular occupational destiny and specific position in the labour market In this instance notions of skill knowledge and dispositions are significant On another level it can raise questions over power and class formation in addition to the way in which these are mediated or intersect with race and gender Moreover there are important political questions addressing the significance of VET in furthering social cohesion and economic regeneration in times of austerity when neoliberalism is hegemonic The chapters in this book are not all of a piece but each in its turn raises important questions about VET its relationship to the economy as well as its global setting This book was originally published as a special issue of Globalisation Societies and Education      The Dictionary of Developmental and Educational

Psychology Rom Harré, Roger Lamb, 1986 In exploring the areas of socialization and the cognitive and emotional growth of children this dictionary considers controversial issues such as IQ and the role of genetic inheritance and early experience in the growth of intelligence and in social and emotional development into adulthood The roles of influential theorists are assessed and issues relating specifically to formal education are examined The Dictionary of Developmental and Educational Psychology is one of four dictionaries based on the Encyclopedic Dictionary of Psychology published by The MIT Press in 1983 and cited by American Libraries as an outstanding reference source that speaks to the specialist and nonspecialist alike They update existing articles while offering many new entries Rom Narreacute is a Lecturer in the Philosophy of Science at Oxford University and an Adjunct Professor of Social and Behavioral Sciences at the State University of New York at Binghamton Roger Lamb is a research worker in the Department of Social Psychology at Oxford University      Native Americans in the School System Carol J. Ward, 2005-07-19 Carol Ward examines persistent dropout rates among Native American youth which remain high despite overall increases in Native adult education attainment in the last twenty years Focusing on the experiences of the Northern Cheyenne nation she evaluates historical ethnographic and quantitative data to determine the causes of these educational failures and places this data in an economic political and cultural context She shows that the rate of failure in this community is the result of conflicting approaches to socializing youth the struggle between native capital and human capital development systems With high rates of unemployment poverty and school dropouts the Northern Cheyenne reservation provides some important lessons as Native Americans pursue greater educational success This volume will be of use to policy makers instructors of comparative education Native American studies sociology and anthropology
